Men's tennis

Senior Trey Schutz will be out of tennis action indefinitely due to a broken bone in his foot. Schutz broke his foot in a match in Houston against Rice on March 24.

"It is a real shame," said coach David Kent. "Trey is a real team leader and it is a severe blow for us to lose him. We don't know right now how long he will be out."

The Texas A&M tennis season will end in another five weeks.

Men's Gymnastics

The Texas A&M gymnastics team will host its first and only home meet of the year Saturday evening at 7 p.m. in 307 East Kyle.

Competing in the meet along with Texas A&M are the University of Texas-Arlington and Lamar University.

Team captain Mark Hartwell said the meet will comprise six events beginning with the floor exercise, followed by the pommel horse, rings, vault, parallel bars and high bar.

The gymnasts currently are ranked third in the state with a record of 3-3.

The home meet will be the first in nearly ten years for the Aggies as little equipment has been available in the past. However, with the completion of East Kyle addition to G. Rollie White Coliseum the team has modern facilities and equipment.

There is no admission charge for the meet.

Women's track

The Texas A&M women's track team returned from the Texas Southern Relays in Houston over the weekend with several awards, including a school record in the 400-meter dash.

Trackster Sandra Cooper set a new school mark in the 400-meter dash with a time of 56.51, good enough for third place in the event.

Vickiee Cohen finished second in the discus with a throw of 145-7 1/2. She placed highest among the Aggies competing in the meet.

Becky Deetz placed third in the high jump, while Cooper again finished in third place in the 200-meter dash. Suzanne Sheffield also placed third in the 800 meter run.

Earlier in the week, at the AIAW national indoor meet in Pocatello, Idaho, the 800-meter and 1600-meter relay team established new marks.

The team, made up of Cooper, Ellen Smith, Evelyn Smith and Jana Graves, ran the 800-meter relay in 1:41.50 and the 1600-meter relay in 3:47.00.

The women will return to the track Saturday when they will travel to Houston for a dual meet with the University of Houston. The meet will be held at Robertson Stadium.

Women's Softball

The Texas A&M women's softball team will host the University of Indiana in a doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Bee Creek Park in College Station.

The Aggies will travel to Denton Friday and Saturday to compete in the Texas Women's University tournament.

The women returned from the Oklahoma Invitational Tournament at Norman where they finished in third place, winning four while losing two.

Western Illinois defeated the Aggies 2-1 in the tourney opener. The Ags then battled back to beat Kansas State, 1-0, New Mexico State, 2-0, and Oklahoma State, 2-1, before losing to tourney runner-up Oklahoma, 1-0.

The women beat Illinois State, 7-1, to finish third. Wednesday's twinbill was originally scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

NCAA finals winding down

United Press International Philadelphia's Liberty Bell will peal for only two of the Final Four Saturday when Virginia, Louisiana State, North Carolina and Indiana struggle to pursue the happiness that comes with being crowned NCAA champion.

Seventh-ranked Indiana has a Tiger by the tail and it will take a supreme effort by Bobby Knight's crew to tame No. 4 LSU, which looked ferocious in mauling unranked Wichita State 96-85 Sunday to capture the Midwest Regional final.

A few hours earlier, the Hoosiers used pinpoint shooting and typically rugged man-to-man defense to embarrass unranked St. Joseph's 78-46 in the Midwest Regional final.

In the other semifinal matchup, No. 3 Virginia, with Player of the Year Ralph Sampson, resumes its Atlantic Coast Conference rivalry with sixth-rated North Carolina, having already beaten the Tar Heels twice during the regular season.

Last Saturday, the Cavaliers won the East Regional by downing 17th-rated Brigham Young 74-60 and North Carolina earned a semifinal berth by taking the West Regional with an 82-68 triumph over unranked Kansas State.

Knight takes pride in his team's grasp of the fundamentals, but the Big Ten champions are meeting their match in defense and rebounding; the SEC champion Tigers led their conference in defense during the regular season and never let Wichita State come close to fulfilling the promise of its nickname — the Shockers.

LSU's Durand Macklin, the SEC Player of the Year, missed the last 10 minutes with a dislocated and bleeding finger but he inflicted a season's worth of damage on the Shockers. Macklin scored 17 of his 21 points in the opening half and also grabbed 9 rebounds as the Tigers took a 48-33 lead and coasted to their first berth in the Final Four in 28 years.

St. Joseph's Coach Jim Lynam rated Indiana as strong as any team he has played this season — including DePaul and North Carolina.

Indiana All-America guard Isiah Thomas scored only 8 points, but he dished out 12 assists and broke down the Hawk defense continually. Landon Turner hit 7-of-8 shots for Indiana, which hit 69 percent from the field compared to only 33 percent for St. Joseph's.

Virginia beat North Carolina 63-57 at home and 80-79 at Chapel Hill, N.C., in the regular season.

Sampson, held in check for the first 20 minutes by BYU, asserted himself in the second half, winding up with 22 points, 12 rebounds and 4 blocked shots — all game-high figures.

If any team in the nation is immune from the psych-out powers of the 7-4 sophomore, it's the Tar Heels — whose front line of freshman center Sam Perkins and forwards Al Wood and James Worthy did some terrorizing of their own against the Wildcats.

Wood, the tournament's MVP, scored 21 points and grabbed a game-high 17 rebounds; Perkins, who holds all the freshman scoring and rebounding records for North Carolina, added 16 points and 11 rebounds; Worthy chipped in 15 points.

The victory sends a Dean Smith-coached UNC team into the Final Four for a sixth time, but Smith is still plagued by what he perceives as a loser's image.

"Maybe you shouldn't go to the Final Four at all," he said, "because only one team will win. If you lose, then they'll say you can't win the big ones."

The final will be played in Philadelphia March 30.
