Schedule of Events
Monday, March 30
12 noon - 1:30 p.m.	Luncheon for local business people. Speaker: Dean W.V. M "The CBA: 1981." Brazos Center.
1:45 - 5:00 p.m.	Seminars for local business people. Brazos Center.
7:00 p.m.	Visiting Executive Speaker: Mr. Oscar Newton, senior president, American General Life Insurance Company. Specied by Beta Alpha Psi. Harrington Education Center, Re 108.
Tuesday, March 31
9:30 - 11 a.m.	Visiting Executive Panel: "Employment Opportunities in O ations Management, Management Information Systems, Business Logistics." Sponsored by Department of Busi Analysis and Research. Rudder Tower, Room 701.
2:15 - 3:45 p.m.	College Town Hall Blue Ribbon Executive Panel. Sponsore Texas Association of Business. Rudder Tower, Room 701
Wednesday, April 1
9 a.m 12 noon	CAREER FAIR '81 booths open to all students. Rudder To Exhibit Hall.
1 - 4 p.m.	CAREER FAIR '81 booths reopen after lunch.
3:30 - 5 p.m.	Seminar: "Transition from College Life to Work Life," by Dave Wilson, Arthur Young & Company. Rudder Forum
3:30 - 5 p.m.	Seminar: "Interviewing," by Mr. Joe Reynolds, district manager, Procter & Gamble. Rudder Theater.
6:15 - 9:15 p.m.	CAREER FAIR '81 banquet, with cash bar, buffet dinner, awards program. Speaker: Mr. William H. Seay, chairmar chief executive officer, Southwestern Life Insurance Comp Brazos Center.
Thursday, April 2
9 a.m 12 noon	CAREER FAIR '81 booths open. Rudder Exhibit Hall.
1 - 4 p.m.	CAREER FAIR '81 booths reopen after lunch.
3:30 - 5 p.m.	Seminar: "Patterns of Managerial Lives," Dr. Ann How manager of Basic Human Resources Research, AT&T. S sored by Department of Management. Rudder Forum.
6:30 - 8 p.m.	MBA Women host Dr. Howard for coffee and conversa Lounge area of Association of Students center.
7:30 - 9:30 p.m.	Informal party for students, faculty and company repres tives. Elks' Lodge, Bryan.
7.1
Friday, April 3 10 - 11 a.m.	CBA Development Council members make presentation various business classes. (See listing for details).
11 a.m 12 noon	"The Texas Business Executive of the Year" annual award sentation and address. Rudder Theater.
1 - 2 p.m.	University Lecture Series: Dr. Arthur B. Laffer, financial nomist. Sponsored by Center for Education and Resear Free Enterprise. Rudder Theater.
1 - 2 p.m.	TAMU Invitational Case Competition. Hosted by MBA Aciation. MSC 138-141.
5 - 6 p.m.	MBA Case Competition dinner. 3C BBQ, Bryan.
Cabundan Annil A

Saturday, April 4

1 - 5 p.m.

MBA Case Competition presentations. Rudder Tower, 3rd and MBA Case Competition cocktail hour, banquet, and awards presentation. Briarcrest Country Club.

A&M business school high

the report for graduate programs

Gourman's rankings of the works to enhance

In an effort to assure the con-

The Council has been estab-

The Council will hold its

"I'm convinced that a good business school should have a

"The Council ought to provide greater assurance that our pro-

graduates and realistic programs are supportive of the business

During the April 3 meeting,

the Council will attend the presentation of the "Texas Business

Executive of the Year" award to executive officer of Houston-

based Anderson Clayton & Company, who also serves as chair-

The Council also will attend an

Reagan confidant and former

Management and Budget under man of the Council.

By ERICA KRENNERICH

Texas A&M's College of Busi- order were: Harvard, Pennsylvaness Administration was ranked nia (Wharton), Chicago, Stan-20th in the nation for its under- ford, and M.I.T. graduate program and 34th for its MBA graduate program in a 1980 graduate programs at various nationwide rating of colleges and southern schools were: Universiuniversities conducted by Dr. ty of Texas at Austin (18th), Virgi-Jack Gourman nia (19th). University of North

The Gourman Report: A Rating of Carolina (21st), Duke (23rd), Undergraduate Programs in Amer- Georgia Tech (44th), Louisiana ican and International Universities State University (47th) and Florand a similar volume on graduate ida (49th). programs reportedly evaluated various academic programs on the basis of such factors as the qualifications, experience, and Development Council attainments of the faculty; the standards and quality of instruction; the scholastic work of stu- CBA programs dents; and the records of graduates in graduate study and prac-

Gourman, a political science tinued relevancy of business professor at California State Uniprograms at Texas A&M, 40 busiversity in Northridge, compared ness and academic leaders have his findings at 1,744 institutions been appointed to the first Colin the United States in 98 diffe- lege of Business Administration rent undergraduate academic Development Council, said Wilprograms. In addition, he also liam V. Muse, dean of the Colrated international universities lege. and premedical and prelegal curriculums in the United States. lished to serve in an advisory

In his report on graduate capacity to the administration of schools, Gourman ranked the the College," said Muse. "As leading schools in 47 various gra-such, the Council will be a direct duate programs. Also included link between the industry and in the volume are ratings on law, business education at Texas medical, and dental schools in A&M." the United States.

Gourman states the purpose second meeting April 3 during of his report is to evaluate the the College's BUSINESS WEEK "total structure, direction, and '81 activities. Many Council performance of each academic members will participate directly department and the non- in this year's events by serving as departmental areas of colleges visiting executive speakers in vaand universities." He reports rious business classes that finding that the present position morning. of undergraduate teaching is low and is continuing to decline.

In his ranking of undergradu- strong and continuing relationate programs in business admi- ship with its constituency - the nistration, Gourman rated the business community," Muse top five schools in order as Penn- said. "It is our hope that the sylvania, M.I.T., Indiana, Michigan, and California (Berkeley). group will help to shape and define the direction and relevancy

Among southern schools his of our future programs. ratings included the University of Texas at Austin (9th), University of North Carolina (12th), and ducts - qualified and dedicated Georgia Tech (29th).

The top five schools listed in — are meeting market needs and

Phillips named top sales rep

Jean-Marie Phillips, a senior nanagement major in the Col- T.J. Barlow, chairman and chief lege of Business Administration, has been named top advertising salesperson for the 1981 special edition of The Business.

For her efforts which resulted in over 40 percent of the ad sales address by Dr. Art Laffer, appearing in this issue, Phillips will receive a dinner for two at a chief economist of the Office of ocal restaurant.

Phillips, who plans to gradu- the Nixon Administration. ate in December, would like to Following a short business sesenter sales (not advertising, un- sion, the Council will close its fortunately) when she gets out of meeting with a reception in the school. Currently, she is working lobby of the new Academic & part-time at a local wholesaling Agency Building which will and retailing concern to help fihouse the College later this

BUSINESS WEEK comes to A&M

Education in the various business disciplines, like many other types Year" award.
of professional training, cannot stop in the classroom. Rather, stu-

The College of Business Administration has announced a week-tives long series of events in order to provide this exposure, said William V. Muse, dean of the College.

and to enhance relations with the business community, Muse said.

BUSINESS WEEK, first begun in 1980, was so successful organizers talent and to see firsthand the quality of today's business education. of the event have expanded greatly on the various activities scheduled

Among the major events occurring in BUSINESS WEEK '81 are: Business Student Council

- the Third Annual Texas A&M Invitational Case Competition organized by the MBA Association

business people
— the presentation of the 1981 "Texas Business Executive of the dents must be exposed to a wide array of activities in addition to their academic training.

discussions designed to allow students and other interested persons the opportunity to interact with business and academic representa-

Interaction among students, business executives and faculty members is a major part of BUSINESS WEEK'81. Through both formal and BUSINESS WEEK '81, which begins March 29 and ends April 4, is informal activities with busines executives, students are given the designed to highlight the achievements of the College of Business opportunity to get realistic perspectives of the business environment Administration, to recognize the importance of business in society, and the various job opportunities available in industry. Business representatives also have a chance to meet tomorrow's managerial

The College of Business Administration encourages all interested persons to participate in BUSINESS WEEK '81 events. Although several of the activities such as banquets and luncheons are by invita-- the two-day Career Fair '81 organized by the undergraduate tion only and may carry a ticket charge, a majority of the events are free and open to the public.

A complete schedule of BUSINESS WEEK '81 activities is presented discusses career opportunities in the last page of this publication. Complete descriptions of indi- with students during Career Fair - the "Day with CBA" program, a group of seminars for local vidual events also may be found elsewhere in this special edition of '80.

The BUSINESS

Monthly Newsletter of the students of the College of Business Administration, Texas A&M University

Vol. 3, No. 3, March 1981

"Career Fair" Students get headstart on job hunting

Few things can give students a better grasp of the career opportunities available in their particular field than talking with individuals who company booths.

Career Fair '80, a one-day event, attracted nearly 1,000 students to der Theater. Following the cereties available in their particular field than talking with individuals who already are employed in the profession.

Texas A&M business students will have a chance to do just that during the second annual "Career Fair" to be held here April 1 and 2. Career Fair '81 is sponsored by the undergraduate Business Student part of the fair, Puig said. Council and represents a major portion of the College's overall BUSI-NESS WEEK '81 activities.

president of the Business Student Council. "It will be an excellent opportunity for students of any classification to meet informally with iness people to discuss job opportunities in various organizations

Each participating company will have a special booth in the Rudder Exhibit Hall at which students can talk freely and individually with company representatives, Puig said. The event was expanded to two day this year so a larger number of students can have an opportunity to visit with company representatives.

4 p.m. both Wednesday and Thursday, April 1 and 2. The Business Student Council also is sponsoring two seminars as subject of a feature article in a ouncil and represents a major portion of the College's overall BUSIESS WEEK '81 activities.

Mr. Dave Wilson of Arthur Young & Company will conduct a Business Executive.

Seminar on "Transition from College Life to Work Life" 3:30 - 5 p.m.

Wednesday April 1 in the Rudder Forum. Mr. Joe Reynolds, district the College, said that the award on campus during the two days of Career Fair '81, said Linda Puig, sales manager of Procter & Gamble, will conduct a seminar on "Interior is based on proven leadership in viewing" in the Rudder Theater at the same time.

Also on Wednesday, a buffet-style banquet for students, faculty tion to financial or market sucmembers and company representatives will be held at the Brazos cess, and leadership in the com-Center beginning at 6:15 p.m., Puig said. At the buffet, students will munity have the opportunity to be seated with the company representative of Recipients of the award are

Tickets for the banquet are on sale until March 31 at the MSC and in explaining the procedure used to front of Francis Hall for $4 per person. Seating arrangements are on a select the executive of the year. first-come first-serve basis

Mr. William H. Seay, chairman and chief executive officer of South-based corporations are asked to western Life Insurance Company, will be guest speaker at the ban- nominate qualified executives for quet. The annual College of Business Administration academic the award. These nominations achievement awards also will be presented.

Career Fair '81 will close with an informal party for students, faculty

Barlow named exec of year

By SHERRY McDONALD

T.J. Barlow, head of Houstonbased Anderson, Clayton & Company has been named Texas Business Executive of the Year

The award is presented each year by Texas A&M's College of Business Administration and The Texas Business Executive maga-

Barlow will be presented the award 11 a.m. April 3 in the Rud-Company booths for this year's fair are open 9 a.m. -12 noon and 1 - to a group of students, faculty p.m. both Wednesday and Thursday, April 1 and 2. and staff. Barlow also will be the forthcoming issue of The Texas business, guidance of a corporachosen by their peers, said Muse,

First, executives of large Texasthen are screened by the College

Continued page 5.

Seminars for local business

Local business people will gather today at the Brazos Center to and company representatives. attend a number of seminars offered by Texas A&M's College of

The Day with CBA program will cover a broad range of topics of interest to local business, said William V. Muse, dean of the College. "We first offered seminars tailored for local business people last year," Muse said. "The response was so great we decided to have the program again this year. The purpose of the Day with CBA program is to provide useful and relevant information to local business people of all managerial levels. from the Texas Association of of TAB's overall effort to build a Moore Cabinets in Bryan; H.R. We want to let them know that the College of Business Administra- Business at 2:15 p.m. March 31 in better climate for business and Campbell, technical superintention is ready and willing to help them in any way we can."

In addition to lunch, the $10 fee local managers pay entitles them to part of BUSINESS WEEK '81 acti- is designed to give students an Deere Park; Gilda Parker, senior attend up to 10 seminars during the afternoon. The program lasts vities. from 12 - 5 pm.

Among the topics to be discussed are seminars covering computers of several executives from all cuss the role of business in con- and R.D. Wilkins, operations in small businesses, husband and wife buying behavior in major areas of business, will field questemporary society. purchases, marketing communications, effective styles for managing tions from the audience on any conflict, employee interviewing, the national economic outlook, business topic. issues surrounding inventory management, and incorporating a busi-

Panel to discuss business topics

nistration will host a Town Hall "Blue Ribbon Executive Panel" posed of over 6,700 executives as panelists include: David Carpanel.

members of the association.

couraged to attend.

The College of Business Admi- representing firms which are rabba, president of Gooseneck Trailer Mfg. Co., Inc. in Bryan; The Town Hall Program is part Kent Moore, president of Kent Room 701 of the Rudder Tower as industry in Texas. The program dent for Shell Oil Company of opportunity to meet with execu- employee relations representa-The panel, which is comprised tives of proven experience to distive for Tenneco Inc. of Houston; manager of W-K-M Bryan, Inc. All interested persons are en- Ben Hardeman, president of OMC Industries, Inc. in Bryan, TAB is a statewide group com- Executives scheduled to serve will serve as moderator for the