Con woman arrested

A woman accused of swindling college fraternity members but of hundreds of thousands of dollars over the last decade was rrested recently while allegedly trying to work her scam at the Iniversity of Idaho.

Nancy J. Cain was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of fraud by wire and impersonating a federal officer. She pleaded guilty to the charges and is awaiting sentencing. Cain apparently used will-developed powers of persuasion to convince fraternity members at schools across the country that he was an assistant U.S. attorney, trying to aid a beautiful voman in distress. The victims would be convinced through a series of phone calls and personal meetings that Cain needed an immediate source of funds, but that she would be able to repay he money later.

The indictment to which Cain has pleaded guilty involves a Iniversity of Pennsylvania student who spent $5,000 traveling o 20 different cities with Cain. - Collegiate Hedlines
