

Shiny brass, flowers, kisses, awards mark Parents' Day

Parents' Day activities got off to an early start Sunday morning with the flower pinning ceremony at the Corps Quad (upper right). Joey Garret gets a carnation pinned on by Mrs. J. K. Murphey, the mother of his commanding officer of Squadron 1.

(Bottom right) This girl gets an early start as a Corps member by practicing yells with some female cadets.

(Bottom left) Company D-1 marches by the reviewing stand flanked by thousands of Parents' Day spectators at Kyle Field. The outfit won the George F. Moore award for Best Outfit.

(Center) Parent's Day activities continued through Sunday afternoon with an exhibition by the Fish Drill Team at Kyle Field.

(Left center) Ruth Hunt, Corps "Mom" to many cadets, watches the march in at Kyle Field with an approving smile.

(Upper left) Mike Bonin, chairman of the Parent's Day Committee, presents the Parents of the Year Award to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jaska. The Jaskas are parents of Aggies Bridget, senior; Matt, junior; and Lexa, sophomore.

Photos by Carolyn Cole, Greg Gammon, Steve Kennedy and Becky Swanson

LOC
Where els
vertical m
tion major
num block
had no sp
Mot
mur
United F
DALLAS
from Midlan
with killing
rest after birt
seventh-st
being held
guard in a ho
Authoritie
der charge ag
17. Althoug
theadult age
she will be t
Dallas Co
ties said the
A M
A
A ✓ E
✓ A
✓ In ✓ E
✓ P
Rate
1601 H
Summer
of summe
dine three plan is se
the five d
Fees for e
Office, Ca
Se
FI
Day stud
board ple
ene