Busy tennis weekend ahead for Texas A&M

By RICK STOLLE

The entire Texas A&M University men's tennis team is in action today, while four members of the women's team travel to Fort Worth Saturday to compete in the Texas Sectionals tournament.

Only four of the 12 women on the team met tournament requirements by being Texas residents and having competed in three tournaments.

"Sonja Hutcherson, Pam Hill, Rebecca Rasor and Laura Hanna were the only girls to stay in state to play summer tennis," said women's coach Jan Cannon.

The men's team will host the Texas A&M University three-way tournament involving Texas A&M, the University of Texas and Texas Christian University.

TCU has some of the top singles players in the conference as well as the NCAA champion doubles team of Karl Richter-David Pate.

"The matches promise to be great spectator sport," said coach David Kent. "It's not every day fans are able to see NCAA champions and championship tennis like we'll have. I am looking for some very fine, heated matches."

Kent went on to say the tournament was sanctioned by the Tennis Coaches Association and he hopes the tournament will become an annual event.

"Besides," he said, "it is always easier to start at home rather than going on a road trip."

The Aggies have no senior leadership this year but will rely upon a trio of juniors to lead the team: Brian Johnson, Ron Kowal and Tom Judson.

Seeded singles players in the tournament are Greg Amayla, Pate and Richter of TCU along with Paul Crozier of Texas. They have each received byes in the first singles round.

Singles matches in the first round of the three-way tournament for the Ags are freshman Kimmo Alkio against Doug Snyder of Texas; freshman Mike Pazourek against Peter Kures of TCU; freshman Greg Hill against Chris Doane of TCU; transfer sophomore Arnold Kettacker versus Paul Crozier of Texas; transfer Van Barry will go against Tom Fontana; Judson against Corey Whittenberg of TCU; freshman Lauro Gonzales against Craig Kardon of Texas; sophomore Genario Fernandez against George Lee of TCU; Joelson against Edgar Giffenig of Texas; and Kowal against Kevin Forbes of Texas.

The doubles teams of Pate-Richter, Kowal-Judson, Crozier-Erick and Kardon-Crawford are seeded.

In doubles, first-round matches scheduled for Texas A&M are Kowal-Judson against Kures-Metzger of TCU; Hill-Alkio against Kardon-Crawford of Texas; Barry-Kettacker against Crozier-Erick of Texas; Joelson-Pazourek against Leeson-Lee of TCU and Fernandez-Gonzales against Levine-Fontana of TCU.

Aggie cross country squads host first meet of season

By RICK STOLLE

The Texas A&M University men's and women's cross country teams will be in action today as they host their first meet of the year.

The Seventh Annual Texas A&M Invitational meet begins at 6 p.m. when the women begin their 5,000 meter race on the Texas A&M golf course. Teams competing in the event are the University of Texas, Abilene Christian University, the University of Houston, Baylor University, Texas Tech University, the University of Texas-El Paso and Sam Houston State University.

The Aggies finished third in last year's meet behind champion Texas and runner-up Lamar. Nix said the Longhorns should be the favorite again this year as well.

"We should be strong enough, though," he said, "to give Texas a real battle and we have a better-than-average chance to beat them."

The field is wide open because the top finisher last year was from Lamar, who is not sending a team this year," Nix said.

The meet will be over the fairly flat Texas A&M golf course. Nix said the only rough spots for the athletes will be slight inclines, especially one near the end of the race.

"If anyone has any kick left, that last incline usually drains it pretty fast," he said.

Nix said he would be able to tell the probable outcome of the race after approximately one-third of the race.

"A mile is a third of the race and the positions don't usually change after that," he said.

The runner finishing first will win one point, while second place will get two. The team with the lowest total will win the meet.

Running for the Aggie women will be Adelaide Bratten, Kim Cloud, Barbara Collinsworth, Jana Graves, Marilee Matheny, Lisa McCorstin, Suzanne Sheffield and Dena Spicer.

Coach Ted Nelson's men's team will compete against Baylor, Texas, Houston and Lamar.

Texas A&M runners will be Andy Elliott, Jim Bolleter, Ray Muenich, Richard Bradley, Jim Sterling, Jeff Kurtz and Howard Loehr.

The men will run the course twice to reach the 10,000 meter mark.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize cities, towns and other taxing units to grant exemptions from ad valorem taxes on an unproductive, underdeveloped or blighted area in order to encourage its development. The amendment would also allow the legislature to authorize a city or town to issue bonds or notes to finance this development and to pledge future increases in ad valorem tax revenues from the property in such areas to repay these bonds or notes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize cities, towns, and other taxing units to grant exemptions from ad valorem taxes on an unproductive, underdeveloped or blighted area in order to encourage its development, and to pledge future increases in ad valorem tax revenues from the property in such areas to repay these bonds or notes."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 117 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize a person to receive a patent to land from the Commissioner of the General Land Office under certain conditions. Application for the patent must be made within five years from approval of the amendment. The land must be surveyed, public free school land not previously patentable. The person must have a properly recorded deed to the land, which he acquired without knowledge of the patent defect and which title he and his predecessors in interest have held for at least 50 years. The person and his predecessors in interest must have continuously claimed the land and paid the taxes for at least 50 years.

This amendment does not apply to beach land, submerged land, or islands. An applicant may not use this provision to resolve a boundary dispute. This amendment will not apply to land which has been determined to be state-owned by a court of competent jurisdiction or that has a productive state mineral lease on the effective date of the amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land held in good faith under color of title for at least 50 years as of November 15, 1981."

Funds constitutionally dedicated to specific purposes would not be subject to committee management. The committee would be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, and the Chairman of the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that one-half of the surplus tax revenues above the spending limit provided by Article VIII, Section 22, of the Texas Constitution would be placed in a Water Assistance Fund to be used as provided by law, including projects for water development and conservation, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes or any combination of these purposes.

The amendment also provides $500,000,000 of the general credit of the state to guarantee bonds issued in commercial markets by local political subdivisions, including cities, counties, and special districts. The amendment allows amounts to be established to decrease or retire state debt, which is defined as that debt secured by the full faith and credit of the state. The amendment would raise the interest that could be paid on authorized, but unissued, bonds guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the state from 6% to 12%.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the use of a portion of the excess revenues of the state for water development, water conservation, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes; authorizing the use of the state's credit, not to exceed five hundred million dollars, to guarantee the bonds of cities, counties, towns, and other units of local government in the financing of projects for such purposes; increasing the interest rate that may be paid on previously approved, but unissued, state bonds; and authorizing a program to retire state bonds."

House Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would exempt livestock and poultry from taxation. Currently, farm products in the hands of the producer and family supplies for home and farm use are exempt.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the inclusion of livestock and poultry with farm products as exempt from taxation."

The amendment would increase the maximum interest payable by the state on these bonds from 6% to 10%, and permit an even higher rate, if specified by the legislature.
