Aggies to battle tough Owls for chance at SWC lead

By RITCHIE PRIDDY

Sports Editor
Saturday's game with the Rice Owls means more than just a chance for a little revenge for the Aggies. It means a chance for the top spot for the Aggies in this year's wild race for the conference crown. Of course, that depends on Houston beating Arkansas.

Arkansas, Texas A&M and Rice share the conference lead with 2-1 records. Texas is second at 1-1; Baylor is third at 2-2.

SMU, of course, is undefeated but is ineligible for the conference championship. They have and will continue to play an important role in the championship race.

Arkansas plays host to Houston Saturday, while A&M is at Rice, the winner will be the front runner for the crown, at least for a week or so. If Arkansas wins there will be a two team tie for the lead, along with the Owl-Aggie winner. However, there is still a lot of football to be played this year.

The Aggies will be out for a little revenge for last year's embarrassing 10-6 loss to Rice. Rice scored all of its points in the second quarter last year on a 41-yard td run by Calvin Fance and a 34-yard field goal by Kenneth Sam.

A&M scored its points on a five-yard run by Johnny Hector in the third period.

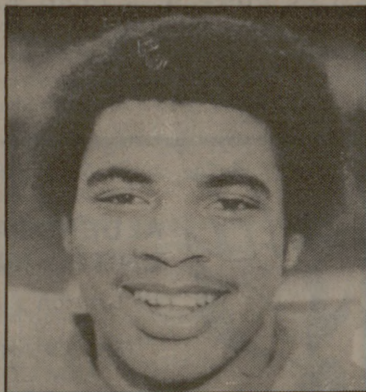

Although the Aggies outgained the Owls 295 total yards to 179 it was the Owls who had enough points on the scoreboard to win, snapping a six-game winning streak for the Aggies over Rice.

Randy Hertel was the quarterback then but has since departed via graduation. Junior college transfer Michael Calhoun is the new man and has filled in well, passing for over 700 yards so far this season.

Calhoun's latest accomplishments include eight touchdown passes in the last two ballgames, something that doesn't seem to happen a lot anymore.

Calhoun can run as well and has accounted for over 1000 yards in total offense in six games, second only to TCU's Steve Stamp.

"We've always known Michael Calhoun could run the ball well," linebacker Bobby Stroger said. "I've never played against him, but I can see his speed and quickness. He also has the ability to pull up and throw on the run."

Michael Calhoun

Calhoun hurt his ankle against Tech last weekend and has been put on a day-to-day basis for Saturday's game. All indications, however, are that he will be ready for the Aggies.

Stroger said the Aggies will be looking for Calhoun to throw a lot to 6-8 tight end Robert Hubble. Hubble always seems to have a good game against the Aggies and it will take a tremendous effort to keep him in check.

Rice's leading receiver is Hosea Fortune, who has caught 14 passes for 194 yards and six touchdowns and should also see plenty of action Saturday.

The Owls have won three games in a row since losing their first three which really shouldn't come to surprise anyone. The only thing that could be a surprise, and maybe not for long, is the fact that Rice is no longer the doormat of the conference.

The Aggies are prepared for the Owls according to Stroger, but aren't expecting a wide open ballgame.
