Aggies host St. Edwards tonight

The Texas A&M basketball team hosts St. Edward's University in its first game of the 1981-82 season tonight at 7:30 in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

St. Edward's enters the game with a 2-3 season record, coming off a 73-60 loss Saturday night to Houston Baptist University. St. Edward's also lost Monday to Southwest Texas State University by a score of 71-51.

The Aggies have taken the floor only once this season, defeating the Windsor Basketball Club of Canada 109-70 in a Nov. 14 exhibition. The two wins for St. Edward's have come in scrimmages against Lee Junior College and Blinn Junior College.

Coach Shelby Metcalf, entering his 19th season with Texas A&M, will start the same lineup as in the Windsor game. Reggie Roberts, at 6-3, and Tyren Naulls, at 6-4, will open at the guard slots, while 6-10 Claude Riley and 6-7 Roy Jones will start at forward. Rudy Woods, 6-11, will be the Aggies' starting center.

Woods led the Aggies in the Windsor exhibition, scoring 23 points and pulling down 22 rebounds. Texas A&M totaled 81 rebounds in the contest, as Riley had 12, reserve center Lonnie Bluntson totaled 11 and Naulls ended with nine.

Sims, Smith named finalists for annual Lombardi Award

United Press International HOUSTON — Southwest Conference defensive stalwarts Kenneth Sims of Texas and Billy Ray Smith of Arkansas were selected two of the four finalists for the Lombardi Award.

Notre Dame linebacker Bob Crable and Penn State guard Sean Farrell were the other finalists in balloting by 95 voters choosing from among 12 nominees, a Lombardi spokesman said. The voters will now choose from among the four.

The award annually goes to a top collegiate lineman in honor of former Green Bay Packers coach Vince Lombardi. The winner will be announced at a Dec. 10 dinner benefiting American Cancer Society research.

Hats Off To The Officials!

Special appreciation and thanks are extended to all those individuals who officiated football, volleyball, soccer, flickerball, and water basketball this fall. Few are the players who realize that the officials keep the games going and under control.

Intramural officials at Texas A&M attend training clinics and periodic meetings. Their work schedule depends on when games must be played. They seldom are congratulated when good calls are made, but quickly are chastised if ever they err. Yes, intramural officials sometimes make mistakes. After all, they're only human. But most of the time their calls are consistent and fair. Often they must put up with belligerent players who try to officiate WHILE they're playing.

Usually the efforts of intramural officials go unrewarded, so the IM-REC Sports staff would like to thank all of you for jobs well done!

And now that we've given you a well-deserved pat-on-the-back, you are reminded that we will need basketball officials in the spring. All interested men and women should contact Dave Kerr today.

Schlitz Wins Soccer

For the second straight year "Schlitz" has earned the championship T-shirts in Men's Class A Soccer. A dormitory team, the "Dunn Dawgs" captured the men's Class B Crown.

Another dorm team, "Haas Honeybees", was awarded the Women's Class A T-shirt. There were no class B teams. Finally, the "Cosmic Cats", won the Class A CoRec crown. The IM-REC Sports office salutes all of the winners and everyone who played soccer this year.

Volleyball Victors

Six volleyball teams sifted through the many divisions to compete finally in the All-University Championship playoffs.

Independent teams won Men's A and Women's A. The men's team "In Your Face" defeated VASA to earn their T-shirts, while "Sweepers" earned the Women's Division award. The Class A CoRec overall winners were "Grins".

In Class B action, "Thetas" bumped "Bun Watchers" to win the women's title, and "FOG" won the CoRec division. In Men's division the "Walton BMF's" met another Walton team — "Walton Sleepz-E" in the final match. The "Walton BMF's" were victorious. So Ritpetoe reported that a Walton team went to the All-University volleyball finals last year, this is the first time both teams from the same dorm met in AU-U Finals.

Congratulations to all the winners and to all 256 teams who competed this year.
