Hinckley judged fit, court cancels mental hearing

United Press International
WASHINGTON — Lawyers say John W. Hinckley Jr. is mentally fit to stand trial on charges he tried to kill President Reagan March 30, and the scheduled court hearing on his mental competency has been cancelled.

In legal papers filed Monday, defense lawyers told U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker they do not believe the competency hearing is necessary for Hinckley to face trial Jan. 4, 1982.

Hinckley's lawyers have said they intend to argue that Hinckley is innocent by reason of insanity in the cases.

In their legal papers, prosecutors said Hinckley has been thoroughly examined since his Nov. 15 suicide attempt at the Army stockade at Fort Meade, Md.

"Obviously, Mr. Hinckley's recent attempt to commit suicide might raise a question as to competency, however, even in this situation, the court must look to all the facts and circumstances involved to determine whether such an act demonstrates either mental or physical incompetency," the prosecutors said in their legal papers.

The government noted that neither a suicide attempt nor suicidal thinking creates an absolute bar to a finding of competency.

Congressmen deny charges of censoring television ads

United Press International
WASHINGTON — Three prominent Democratic congressmen have denied charges that they conspired to censor controversial anti-liberal television commercials by the National Conservative Political Action Committee.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and House Democratic leader Jim Wright of Texas dismissed the accusations, leveled by NCPAC chairman Terry Dolan, as grandstanding and absolutely unfounded. And Sen. Daniel Moynihan, D-N.Y., said Tuesday that broadcasters are going by the First Amendment, not by what he tells them.

Dolan told a news conference Monday that 11 television stations had refused to carry NCPAC commercials attacking the liberal voting records of congressmen on the organization's hit list. Some of the members conspired with the stations — or pressured them — into not carrying the ads, he said.

Wright denied the charges: "This organization is very careless with the truth, and I do not wonder that many self-respecting broadcasters throughout the country have declined their material."

Moynihan said his lawyers sent a memorandum of law to New York broadcasters last summer advising them "stations are under no ... obligation to sell (ads) to groups like NCPAC" and that if they do, libel laws would not protect them.

"We did it in the most open possible way," Moynihan said. "I did not give any television station the right to do what they do. The First Amendment does and the Federal Communications Commission does. I haven't called anybody. A large proportion of stations that were requested to run NCPAC ads refused to do so. You'll have to ask them why."

But Dolan said the television stations' refusal to air the advertisements is a "serious violation ... of (the) fundamental right of free speech and expression as guaranteed by the First, the Fifth and 14th Amendments."
