Ivey band leaves Aggieland to join Moe Bandy league

Dennis Ivey and the Dennis Ivey Band, regular performers at the Lakeview Club since February 1968, will play their last local show New Year's Eve. He and his band are moving to Palestine, Texas, where Ivey manage a country-western club owned by Moe Bandy. Others. The Dennis Ivey Band be the club's house band.

The Lakeview Club is holding going-away party for Ivey and the band will play at the club until the end of the year. Ivey doesn't think the departure of the band will make any difference in club operations except Thursday nights won't be Ivey nights.

After watching Texas A&M University grow for almost 20 years, Ivey said he finds it hard to move away.

"When I started here, wasn't co-ed and we used to have 60 people a night," Ivey said. "Now we've had 1,874 for a day night record."

"I hate leaving town. I've been here and I've loved playing Aggies all these years, but Bandy offered me this chance it's too good to pass up."

Ivey said his band will make final appearance at the Lakeview Club on New Year's Eve. The head for Palestine where Bandy Country opens Jan.
