Women's conference to discuss job, family

by Kellie Kurtin
Battalion Reporter

Today is the last day to register for the annual Women's Leadership Conference, which will deal with problems faced by women in careers.

The conference is being sponsored by the Department of Student Activities, and interested students should register at the student activities office in 221 Memorial Student Center and pay the $5 registration fee to cover the cost of a luncheon and materials.

Although men are welcome to attend the conference, the object of the program is to expose women students to skills that may enhance their future career and family lives, Student Activities Advisor Tricia Barber, coordinator of the conference, said.

The program will begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday in 501 Rudder with a lecture on career planning for women, given by Dr. Fran Kimbrough of the Personal Counseling Service.

Dr. Virgie B. Nolte of the Personal Counseling Service will speak to one group on stress management. Nancy P. Thompson of the Student Affairs Department will talk about decision making and goal setting. A panel of speakers then will discuss career and family relations, followed by a question-and-answer session.

Dr. Candida Lutes, assistant dean of liberal arts, will discuss women in transition.

The conference includes an assertiveness-training workshop conducted by Dr. Sharon Colson, assistant director to the Free Enterprise Center, and Dr. Betty Milburn, from the Academic Counseling Center.

Inspectors OK HL&P for nuclear operation

United Press International
HOUSTON — Seven federal nuclear inspectors testified they believed Houston Lighting & Power Co. has both the character and competence to operate the South Texas nuclear project.

The investigators made their statements Tuesday during a Nuclear Regulatory Commission licensing board hearing.

One of the inspectors said that since the company was fined $100,000 by the NRC in April 1980 for construction and quality control violations, HL&P has been extremely cooperative and responsive.

"I think they're in a stronger position now, having more expertise, than they were at first," senior NRC inspector William A. Crossman said. "They have gained tremendously in expertise."

Another witness said the project, located near Bay City, has been "tested more (for concrete, welds and other work) than I've ever seen done at a nuclear site."

H. Shannon Phillips said he was the former resident inspector at the project.

The inspectors said, however, the project had accumulated 14 additional violations for non-compliance since the 1980 fine. Six of the violations were for HL&P's failure to follow procedures at the $4.8 billion half-completed project.

Four others were for failure to respond promptly to requirements and the others were for various other reasons, the inspectors said.
