Malone scores 38 to lead Rockets to victory

United Press International
HOUSTON — Moses Malone poured in 38 points and had 32 rebounds — more than the entire Seattle team — in the Houston Rockets 117-100 whipping of the Sonics.

been able to beat Seattle in four tries," he said. "This is probably the best game we've played all the way through this year."

Thomas Henderson summed up his feelings with an culinary analogy.

"We were hamburger earlier this year, but we are steak now," he said.

Malone and Elvin Hayes dominated the backboards Thursday as the Rockets grabbed a 61-29 edge in rebounding in claiming their seventh straight win.

The Rockets led 66-49 at intermission behind 22 points from Malone and 16 from Hayes. Malone had 15 rebounds at the half.

Seattle fought back to pull within 10 points at 95-85 with six minutes left behind eight fourth-quarter points from reserve James Donaldson.

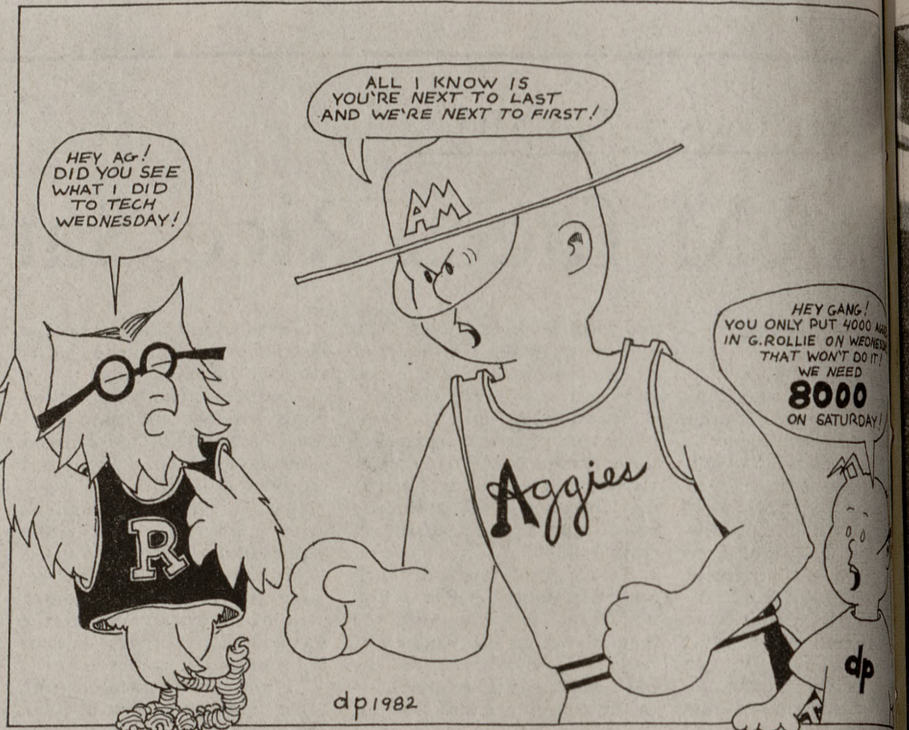

Houston's Robert Reid, however, scored three straight field goals and the Rockets regained control of the game.

Hayes finished the game with 22 points for Houston and Bill Willoughby blocked seven shots.

The win improved Houston to 26-22 while Seattle slipped to 34-14.

Seattle coach Lenny Wilkens seemed philosophical about the loss.

"I'm glad this game is over," he said. "Tomorrow night we'll take it out on the next team. Tonight, they were definitely the better team."

Wheelchair basketball game precedes A&M-Rice contest

The Mayor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped will sponsor a wheelchair basketball game between two teams from Houston Saturday in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

The game will be played in two 20-minute halves beginning at 5 p.m. The Texas A&M-Rice basketball game will follow at 7:30.

Jim Raatz, chairman of the committee, said the game promises to be exciting because the players are great athletes.

"The game will be a mixture of the NBA playoffs and a demolition derby," he said.

He also said that a former Texas A&M student will make surprise introduction of the teams.

The game is free of charge, but donations will be accepted to benefit the Brazos Valley Rehabilitation Center.

Softball team to hold spring season auditions

The Texas A&M women's softball team, which begins its season March 2 when the Aggies host Baylor in a doubleheader, will hold open auditions Saturday. Registration will be at 12:30 in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

ing Sam Houston State University 4-0, with freshman pitcher Lisa Martinez picking up the victory.

The regional tournament will be May 7 through May 8 in Edmond, Okla., while the national tourney will be held May 20 through May 24 in Norman, Okla.

The Aggies will try to improve on last spring's fourth place finish in the national tournament.
