If you can't wait to go see your favorite performer and are willing to drive 105 miles to see 'em — Houston's just down the road. Like most major cities Houston has several concert halls, with many concerts planned for the spring season. If you're interested in finding out not only major musicians, but what the city has to offer in offbeat entertainment, (and Houston is known for this) check out the city newspapers or call the city's Chamber of Commerce. The Summit is one of the more popular and larger concert halls in Houston. Musicians scheduled to appear at the Summit so far are:

- The Statler Brothers: March 2
- Moe Bandy and Joe Stampley — Moe & Joe: March 3
- Conway Twitty: March 4
- Dolly Parton: March 5
- Kool and the Gang: March 7 at 1:30 p.m.
- Don Williams: March 7 at 7:45 p.m.
- Eddie Arnold: Feb. 24 Wednesday at 7:45 p.m.
- Anne Murray: Feb. 25
- Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band: Feb. 26
- Merle Haggard: Feb. 27
- The Oak Ridge Boys: Feb. 27
- Charley Pride: Feb. 28
- Mac Davis: March 1

Most of the concerts are of the country and western genre and be sure to check to see if tickets for the performances are still available — the Livestock and Rodeo show in Houston is a big deal. Entertainers scheduled to appear are:

Tickets for all shows in Houston may be purchased through Ticketmaster outlets located in all Montgomery Ward Stores or by calling the Houston Downtown Ticket Center at 222-SHOW. Tickets for the Astro-dome performances: 779-9500.

Detective Belker is the rumpled member of the department who has a penchant for biting suspects on "Hill Street Blues," Thursdays on NBC.

- The Cars: Feb. 25 — the popular new-wave group tickets have been on sale for the past month.
- Lawrence Welk: Feb. 27 — probably not the rave of college campuses, but you may as well see him in person, since he's not going to be on television much longer.
- Rick Springfield: Feb. 28 — he's currently the hearthrob of young teens, but he does have several pop songs on the charts.
- Jimmy Buffett: March 8 — catch him on his Texas tour, tickets went on sale this week.
- Beach Boys: March 17 — the "surfer music" legend lives on. Tickets go on sale Monday (Feb. 22).
- The Police: March 20 — a popular new-wave group. tickets went on sale Saturday.

Several entertainers are scheduled to perform at the 1982 Houston Livestock and Rodeo Show — Feb. 26 to March 7.
