

Rezoning to highlight council agenda at 7 p.m. meeting tonight

Rezoning throughout the city will be the main topic of discussion for the College Station City Council meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. at the College Station City Hall.

No discussion topics are on the agenda for the meeting.

Proposals for rezoning include changing an 8.8 acre tract on University Drive to townhouses zoning and changing Emerald Forest to a single family district. Also a .81 acre tract on Downing Road and FM 2818 will be on the agenda for discussion.

A proclamation declaring March 2 as Texas Flag Day also will be announced.

Mayor Gary Halter's secretary said the meeting is expected to be a short one because of the lack of discussion topics on the agenda.

Vandiver to speak at C of C banquet

Texas A&M President Frank E. Vandiver will be the featured speaker at the Bryan-College Station Chamber of Commerce annual banquet tonight at 7 in the Brazos Center. Tickets cost $10.

Vandiver's speech is expected to be similar to his State of the University address, which he gave before the Brazos County A&M Club last week.

In the State of the University address, he focused on the University's computer system, which he said is the biggest problem facing the University. The University should be able to provide computer training for every student; however, only 25 percent now can be accommodated, Vandiver said.

Vandiver also is expected to discuss the University graduate program, the Sterling C. Evans Library, which he said is understocked, and faculty salaries.

More than 700 tickets have been sold for the banquet. They can be obtained at the chamber's two offices at 401 S. Washington in Bryan and at 2615 Texas Ave. in College Station.
