Woods averaged 7.7 rebounds a game. Riley's total of 502 points this season was the eighth highest total in the team's history. Woods, who finished the season with 45 blocked shots, had 192 blocks in 136 games during his four-year career.

Naulls said that the team, which loses starters Woodley and Woods, both seniors, looks for another good season in 1982-83.

"Hopefully, if Roy (Jones) can come back from his injury, we'll have another big man in there to compliment Claude. Coach Metcalf was telling me that this team got along better than any team he's ever had. If we can keep the continuity in the team, we'll have a successful season next year."

Metcalf, with a career record of 308-102 and a SWC record of 176-104, said the Aggies' biggest need for next season is size.

"We need to have a good recruiting year — we need help inside," Metcalf said. "Forwards and centers are what we're looking for."

"Basically, the guards we're after are big guards. We just need some size and some toughness."

April 14 is the first day a recruit can sign a letter-of-intent with a college.

Metcalf cited Woodley for his contribution to the team after Jones' injury. After the victory at Rice, Metcalf began using a three-guard starting lineup consisting of Woodley, Naulls and Roberts, while Woods and Riley were under the basket.

"Claude really came along, but I guess you'd have to single out Milton for the job he did," Metcalf said. "He really drew some tough assignments guarding the Ricky Pierces and Terry Teagles. He's really done well for us since he's been here."

"Basically, it was a new team and I think they worked real hard and were highly competitive. I think the most we ever lost in a row was two games — we never got in a slump."

First-year assistant coach John Thornton said the Aggies overcame a great deal of adversity at the start of the season.

"When we started the year, we had a couple of guys quit the team (sophomore Ethan Glass and freshman Sonny Burton) and then Roy got hurt," Thornton said. "We handled the situations, and I think that spoke highly of the team. I think the players responded well."

Several of the Texas A&M athletic teams competed during the spring break, with the baseball and softball teams involved in several series here and on the road.

The baseball team began the break by winning two of three games with the Rice Owls in the Southwest Conference opener for both teams. The Aggies and pitcher David Flores won the first game of the series 8-3 March 12, and the next day Rice took the first game of a double-header 10-5 as Texas A&M's Steve Davis was the loser.

Texas A&M won the series finale, as freshman Phillip Taylor won his second game of the season.

Last Monday, the Aggies beat Southwestern 5-3 in the first game of a double-header, but lost the second game 12-11. Tuesday, Texas A&M pitchers Rick Luecken and Rock King combined to no-hit Delta State

2-0. The Aggies won the second game of the pair 16-8, and finished the three-game series by winning 11-4 Wednesday.

Texas A&M's most recent two series include a three-game loss to the Texas Longhorns over the weekend and a split with the Kansas Jayhawks Sunday. The team's record now stands at 18-7.

The Texas A&M softball team won nine games and lost one over the spring holiday, winning the Sooner Invitational in Norman, Okla., over the weekend.

The Aggies started the break by sweeping Kansas 6-0 and 1-0 in Arlington. Lori Stoll pitched a no-hitter in the first game and recorded nine strikeouts, and Shan McDonald won the second game in 13 innings.

Before the tournament, Texas A&M lost to Missouri 1-0, with Stoll the loser. However, the Aggies defeated the Tigers by the same score in the Oklahoma tournament, raising their spring season record to 15-1.

The Texas A&M men's track team placed fifth with 66% in the Rice Invitational March 13, as the host Owls won the meet. The Aggies' Rod Richardson, competing the same day in the NCAA championships in Pontiac, Mich., won the 60-yard dash with a meet-record time of 6.07 seconds.

Texas A&M teammate Jimmy Howard, a high jumper, qualified for the finals, but didn't place in the competition.

The Texas A&M men's golf team placed ninth in the Guadalajara Invitational in Guadalajara, Mexico, March 11-13. The Aggies shot 871 to finish two strokes behind Texas in the 15-team tournament. Coach Bob Ellis said the Aggies haven't found their form as of yet.

Softball team clinches tourney with 7-0 finish

The Texas A&M softball team defeated the University of Kansas 4-1 Saturday in the final game of the Sooner Invitational, capping off an undefeated tournament record with another no-hitter.

Pitcher Lori Stoll boosted her record to 8-1 with a perfect game and a no-hitter in the Aggies' final two games of the weekend.

"We had some real good pitching, and some real good defense," Coach Bob Brock said of the Aggies' play in the tournament, held in Norman, Okla. "Our hitting was sporadic, but it was good enough to win."

The Aggies left a long string of victims en route to the final game against the Jayhawks, holding seven opponents to only three runs. In pool play, Texas A&M defeated the University of Southern Illinois 8-0 and the University of Wyoming 4-1.

In the last game of preliminary play, the Aggies blasted Kansas 10-1, their third of four victories in five days.

Stoll, who had pitched the game against Wyoming, added her third of four victories in the tournament with a 3-0 playoff shutout of Arizona State.

Pitcher Shan McDonald followed with a 1-0 blanking of the University of Missouri, which dealt Texas A&M its only loss of the season the day before the tournament.

A perfect game was next, as the Aggies edged the University of Western Illinois, 1-0. Stoll had 10 strikeouts in the game.

The Aggies continued their domination of the Jayhawks in the finals, taking advantage of three hits, two walks and a steal for a four-run fifth inning.

A double from first baseman

Shannon Murray, with Rose Ruffino and Karen Guerrero on base, was good for two runs. Carrie Austgen then scored Iva Jackson, who had been intentionally walked, from third base with a single. Murray stole home for the Aggies' final run.

The victory gave the Aggies their first tournament title of the season, and boosted their spring record to 15-1. Stoll is 8-1 with three perfect games and McDonald is 5-0.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In The Bryan Division

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For the Bryan division this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

	Bryan
	Texas PUC Standards	January 1981	Most Current Figure
