The Texas Christian University tennis team brought the No. 2-ranked singles player in the country to Texas A&M Saturday and coach David Kent summed up David Pate's performance in one word.

"Awesome." "Pate was superb," Kent said. "He's a great athlete, one of the best I've seen in tennis. But Brian Joelson played him good. He's really been playing so well lately."

Pate beat Joelson 6-4, 7-5 and has lost only two matches this year.

The Aggies scored one singles and one doubles victory against the 8th-ranked Horned Frogs. Tom Judson beat Greg Amaya 6-3, 6-3, and Mike Pazourek teamed with Kimmo Alkio to beat Amaya and Jack Pate 6-2, 6-3.

TCU's doubles team of Pate and Karl Richter are the defending NCAA doubles champions and they beat Joelson and Tom Judson 7-5, 6-4 in the No. 1 doubles match.

Texas A&M is 3-1 in South-west Conference play. TCU is 19-3 overall and 5-0 in the conference.

Here are remaining Aggie scores against TCU:

- Richter (TCU) def. Mike Pazourek 7-6, 6-2.
- Carey Wittenberg (TCU) def. Kimmo Alkio 6-1, 6-4.
- George Lee (TCU) def. 6-3, 6-4.
- Chris Doane (TCU) def. Greg Hill 6-4, 7-6.
- Doane-Wittenberg (TCU) def. Kowal-Hill 6-1, 6-1.

The Aggies recovered from the loss and beat Auburn 5-4 Sunday.

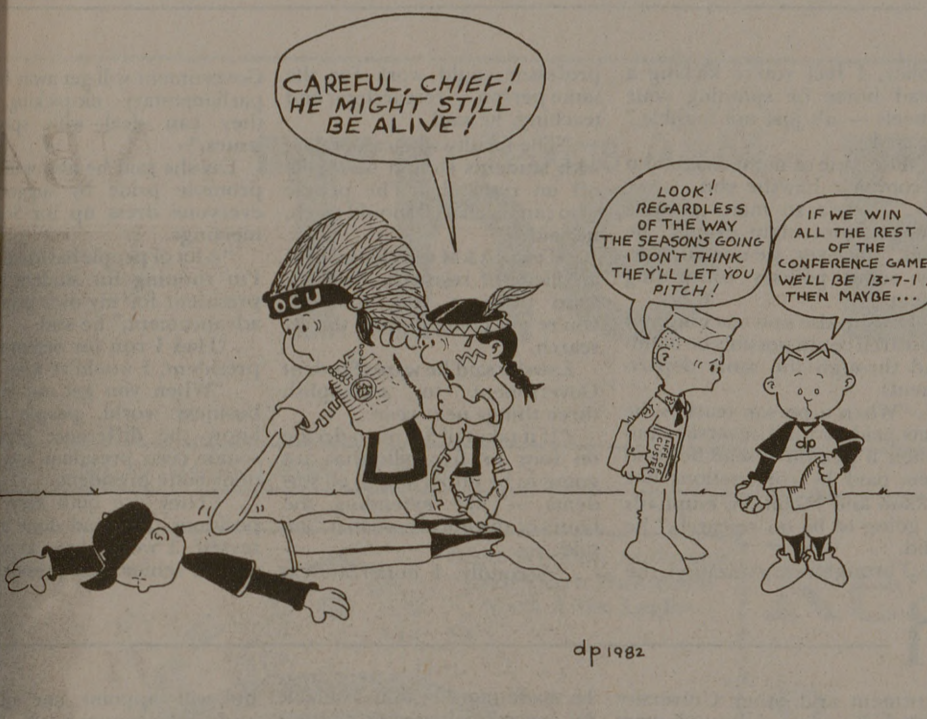

"We needed this win and I'm really happy about the victory," Kent said. "It was a good team effort."

In the No. 1 doubles match, Joelson and Judson beat Dan Cassidy and Bud Cox 6-2, 6-3 in what Kent described as probably the best match of the season for them.

"We're 20 and five for the season now. That isn't bad." Aggie results against Auburn:

- Joelson (A&M) def. Bud Cox 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Softball team beats top seed, takes third place

Bob Brock says the Texas Aggie softball team showed signs of being a "national caliber team" in national weekend's tournament, hosted by Cal-State Fullerton in Fullerton, Calif.

The Aggies dropped couldn't do real well in the U.S. International University team, but Brock is still optimistic about their next five opponents, including top-ranked Utah State, to stay alive in the double-elimination competition.

"I couldn't have been happier than I was when we won those games in a row," the Texas A&M coach said. "We hung in there...and that shows a national caliber team."

A Sunday morning loss to Cal-State Fullerton, the second round, ended the tournament for Texas A&M, but Brock is still optimistic about their next five opponents, including top-ranked Utah State, to stay alive in the double-elimination competition.

"We wanted to finish number one, but it wasn't too bad to finish third," he said. "There wasn't a single bad team there — they were all great."

After a one-day rain delay, Texas A&M lost its first game Friday to USIU, a team that Brock said the Aggies may have been too lightly. Lori Stoll, the starting pitcher, gave up only three hits, but the Aggies backed her with only one — a bunt by Matt Holthaus.

"Any time you start in the loser's bracket, it's tough," Brock said. "I think the key to the whole tournament was losing that first game."

The loss didn't hinder Texas A&M for long. Later on Friday, the Aggies put together eight hits and a four-hitter from pitcher Shan McDonald for a 3-1 victory over the University of California at Fresno. All three runs were scored in the sixth inning by Shannon Murray, Josie Carter and Iva Jackson. Roshele Rudenberg and Gay McNutt each collected an RBI.

The Aggies notched four more victories on "Shutout Saturday," blanking Utah State, Cal-Berkeley, USIU and Arizona.

Against No. 1 Utah State, Texas A&M spread seven hits over three innings as Stoll pitched a one-hitter. In the second inning, a double from Eya Rendez scored Holthaus and Melody Pritchard for a 2-0 Aggie lead.

Holthaus came back in the third with a bases-loaded single, scoring Murray for Texas A&M's third run.

In the fourth, again with the bases loaded, Mary Lou Youngblood scored Rendez with a single to complete the 4-0 victory.

The Aggies next squeezed by Cal-Berkeley and USIU by scores of 1-0 in games that lasted 11 innings each. McDonald and Stoll were the winning pitchers, and the Aggies had 11 hits in the rematch with USIU. McDonald allowed only four hits in the Aggies' 2-0 victory over Arizona, their fifth straight and fourth straight shutout.

The streak ended Sunday with a 1-0 loss to Cal-Fullerton, the eventual tourney champion. Stoll was the losing pitcher with a two-hitter.
