

Stiff sentences recommended for two convicted in Brilab

United Press International
HOUSTON — In a harshly worded document, the federal government urged that stiff prison sentences be handed down against two men convicted in February in the federal Brilab case.

U.S. Attorney Dan Hedges said Monday that Houston Port Commissioner John Garrett and labor leader L.G. Moore were "pernicious influence peddlers" who each deserved a "stiff penal term" for their crimes.

Garrett and Moore were convicted in February of using an interstate telephone call in a scheme to bribe Houston City Councilman Jim Westmoreland. Westmoreland has denied all wrongdoing and has not been charged.

Hedges said in the memo to U.S. District Judge Norman Black that since their conviction, neither man "has shown the slightest remorsefulness for his illicit conduct."

The men are to be sentenced today. They face a maximum of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Garrett's lawyer, Richard "Racehorse" Haynes asked Black to sentence his client to probation because his conviction has had "an immediate punitive effect."

The jury deadlocked 11-1 in favor of conviction on two other charges. Prosecutors said they plan to retry Moore and Garrett on those counts of conspiracy and making another interstate telephone call.

John Frankenfield, a junior environmental design major from Miami Beach, Fla., spends the afternoon with a game of backgammon outside his apartment in Bryan. Frankenfield says it presents more mind stimulation than environmental design homework.

3.9 billion cigars consumed in U.S.

United Press International
WASHINGTON — Smokers in the United States consumed 3.9 billion cigars during 1981, according to the Cigar Association of America.

A 20 percent increase over 1980 in the sales of cigars retailing for 8 cents to 15 cents each and a 5 percent gain in the sales of those selling for over 15 cents each contributed to the total, the association reported.

The United States also imported more cigars than it imported in 1981, the report said. Cigar exports totaled 131.8 million, an increase of 5.3 percent over 1980, with the United Kingdom (23 million) and The Netherlands (10 million) the leading foreign customers. Some 115.3 million cigars were imported in 1981, the largest numbers (33 million) coming from the Dominican Republic, also 23 million from Honduras and 17 million from Jamaica.
