

Encouragement on the field

Texas Aggie second baseman Clint Heard, left, seems to be pointing toward Coach Tom Chandler during Texas A&M's double-header sweep of Oklahoma City Monday. Chandler is caught here in the middle of one of his customary encouraging whistles. The Aggies, now 25-13-1 for the season, play the Arkansas Razorbacks today at 3 and Saturday at noon in a Southwest Conference double-header.

Astros, Mets win as Knepper, Bailor star

United Press International
According to utilityman Bob Bailor, if all he faced were the Steve Carltons and the Ron Guindys of the world, his plating days would be over. "I only faced him (Carlton) one other time last year and I got a couple of hits," Bailor said Thursday, after cracking two doubles and a single and driving in three runs in the New York Mets' 7-2 opening day victory in Philadelphia. "I usually hit left-handers fairly well. It's the guys the others can hit I can't touch." Bailor doubled and scored in the first, doubled home a run in the fifth and cracked a two-run single and later scored in a four-run seventh. The Mets won for the eighth straight year on opening day, spoiling the debut of Phillies' Manager Pat Corrales before a crowd of 15,345, who braved 41 degree temperatures and winds gusting up to 28 mph. The opener had been postponed Tuesday because of snow and Wednesday because of cold weather.

Randy Jones, who won only one of nine decisions last year, went the first six innings and combined with Ed Lynch and Neil Allen on a seven-hitter for the victory. Steve Carlton allowed all seven New York runs before he was knocked out in the seventh and took the loss.

"The ball had good movement and I was getting it over the plate," Jones said. "It's been a long time since I felt this good on the mound."

The Mets blew the game open in the seventh. After Hubie Brooks walked, pinch-hitter Rusty Staub drove home Brooks with a single. Bailor later added a two-run single and Dave Kingman singled home the inning's fourth run.

"If we catch the ball behind him (Carlton), it's a different game," said Corrales.

In the only other National League game, Houston edged St. Louis, 1-0. Montreal at Pittsburgh was postponed due to cold weather.

In the American League, Minnesota topped Seattle, 4-1, and California outlasted Oakland, 8-6, in 16 innings.

At Houston, pinch-runner Dickie Thon scored from third base on a fielding error by second baseman Tom Herr in the eighth inning to lift the Astros. Lefthander Bob Knepper yielded just four hits and struck out five in eight innings for the victory, and Dave Smith pitched the ninth inning for his first save.

At Minneapolis, rookie Gary Gaetti hit his third home run in as many games and singled in another run and rookie Jesus Vega ripped a pair of RBI singles to propel the Twins.

At Oakland, Calif., Doug DeGinces led off the 16th inning by greeting reliever Jeff Jones with his second home run of the game and California added three insurance runs as the Angels beat the A's in the longest game ever played by either club. The game took five hours and 31 minutes to complete and wasted in the Oakland loss was a brilliant relief stint by Tom Underwood, who yielded just one hit and struck out nine in 6 1-3 innings.

Ruling goes against NFL team owners

WASHINGTON — Officials for the NFL Players Association say a National Labor Relations Board ruling is a victory that will help them in collective bargaining with NFL team owners.

William Lubbers, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board said Thursday he will order a formal complaint against the NFL Management Council unless it provides certain information requested by the players union.

"If the information is not supplied, the case will be heard by an administrative law judge of the NLRB," he said.

Lubbers said the Management Council should supply the union with details of nonmonetary contracts between the NFL and member clubs. Also, the council should turn over details of agreements with television and radio stations and the sale of video tapes, discs and films.

Under the ruling, the Players Association also should be informed whether NFL team physicians have any financial interest in their respective teams; workmen's compensation benefits; and individual contracts between each player and his respective team.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the Players Association, said, "The decision will help (the union in) collective bargaining with the NFL. It is now incumbent upon the Management Council to turn over this information."

The NFLMC does not have to supply information on the monetary aspects of television, radio and video contracts and specific elements the NFLMC includes in computing "player costs" as a percentage of total club revenues, Lubbers said.

Negotiations between NFL owners and the players union are scheduled to resume Monday in New York City.

Saints' new schedule doesn't bother Bum

United Press International
NEW ORLEANS — The NFL's refusal to schedule the Saints for Monday night TV games doesn't bother coach Bum Phillips. As a matter of fact, he says he would rather slate the showdowns for high noon on Sundays. "I don't really care," Phillips said after the Saints 1983 schedule was announced Thursday. "I'd rather play every game on Sunday at high noon. To me a Monday night is an aggravating thing. It's like a Saturday game or a Thursday game. It may be good for the fans but it's not good for the coaches."

Phillips said this year's lineup had some good points and some bad points when compared with last year's.
