

g activities ...

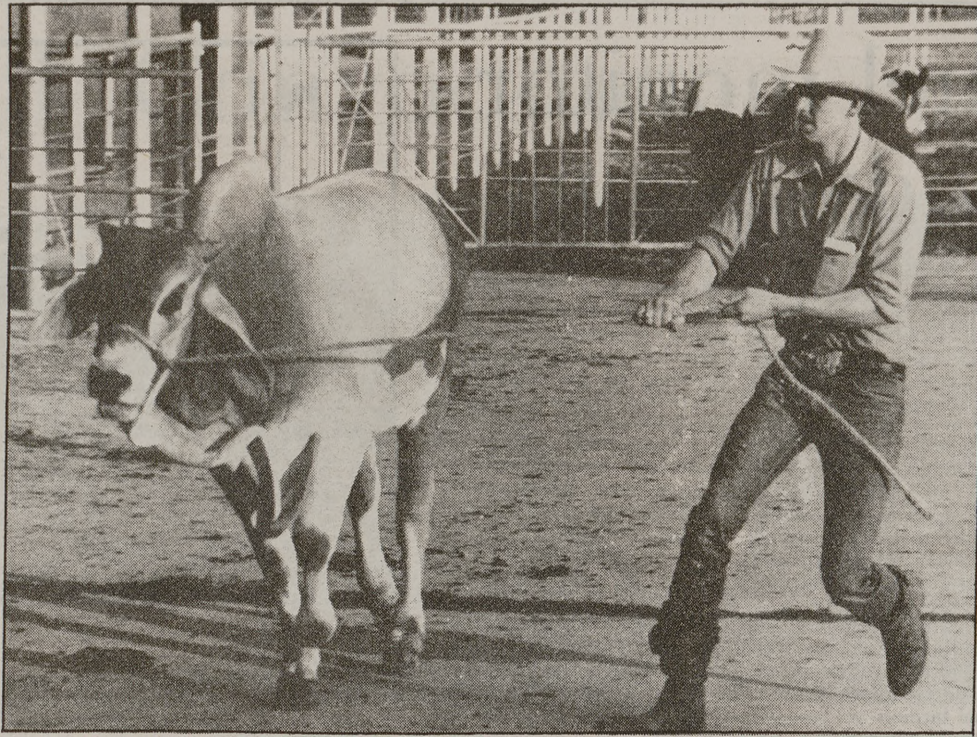

Photo by Ann Ramsbottom

Louis Martin, an animal science graduate student, takes his calf for a leisurely stroll in preparation for the Little Southwestern Livestock Show.

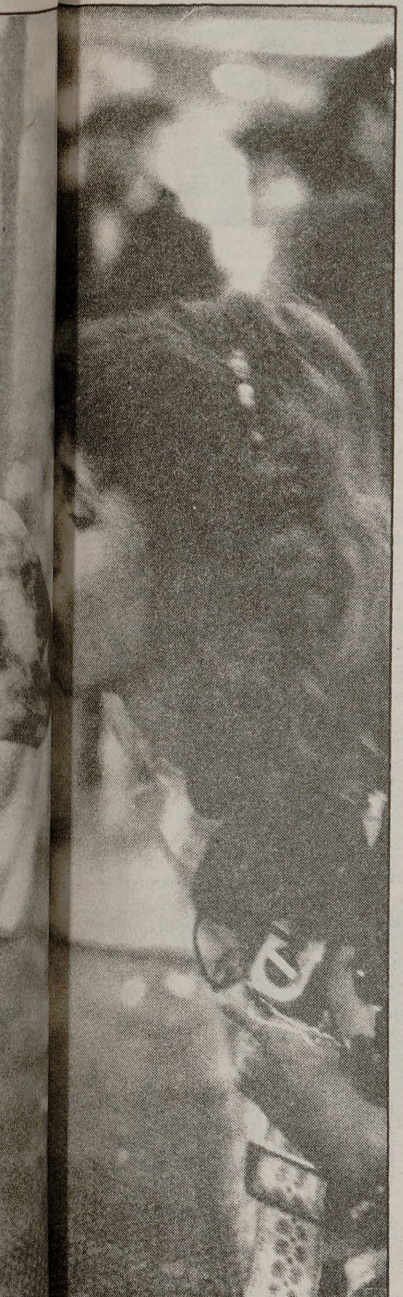

Photo by Dana Smelser

They takes time to enjoy some from a friendly lamb.

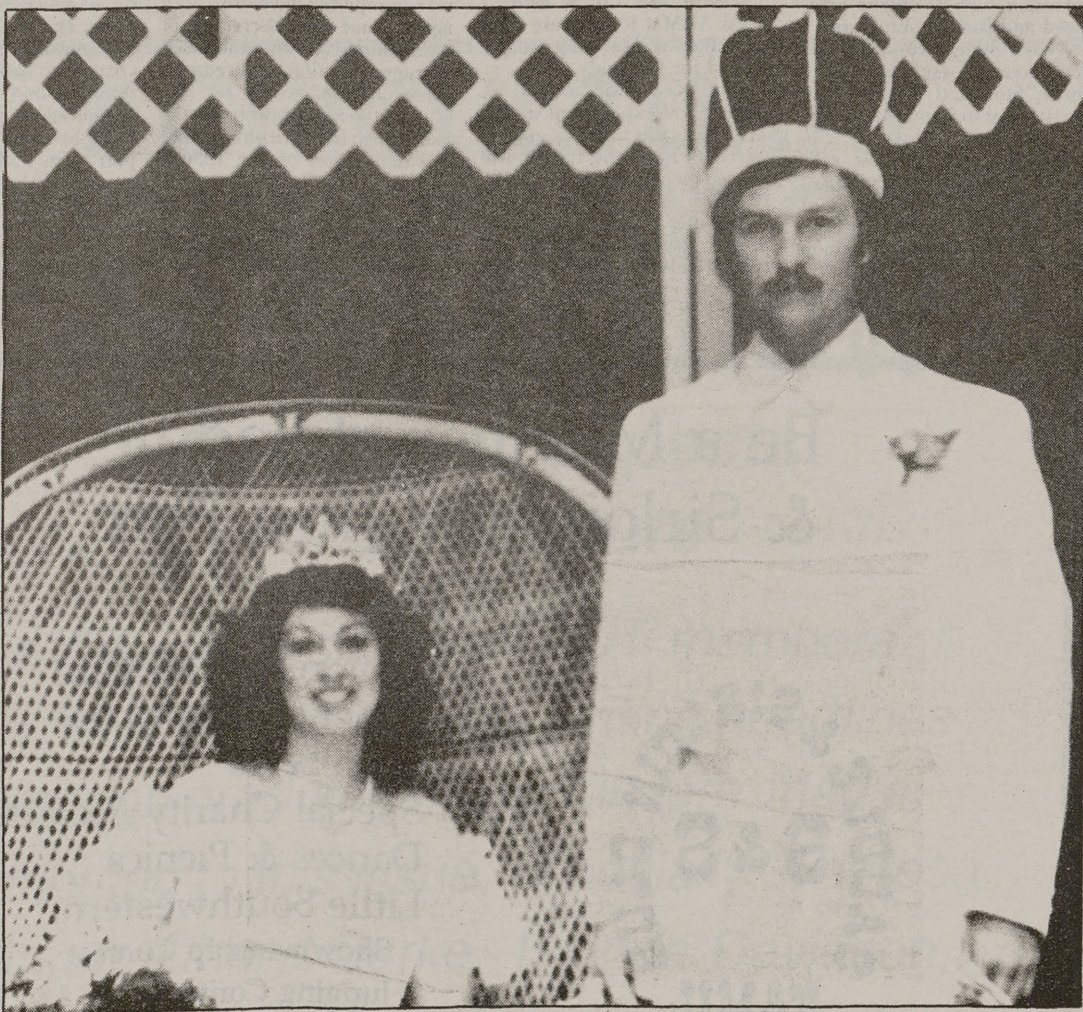

Photo by Michael Raulerson

Calvin Sanders, a senior agronomy major, and Jan Ashcroft, a sophomore management major, were crowned King and Queen Cotton in the Cotton Pageant.

College Agriculture

cert Saturd
ditorium.
Tickets f
no are a
Office. Tic
able at the
halls.
Other
Saturday m
open hous
baseball g
and Texas
ma movies
Sunday
Day award
ditorium a
Aggie Par
named.
This ann
cessfully fu
morally an volvement
and comm
volvement.
Students
parents fo
are chosen
mittee, ma
dents.
Several
been plan
Volunteers
ance at Kyl
p.m. the Fi
at Kyle Fie
a Corps R
son's Mou
at 4:30 p.m.

The Off
sor a Paren
day, April
to 6:30. T
Rudder B $4.50. And have plan
Weekend.

nsf

But in tinued to
dustrial str
rooted fru
the pullba

The you
tion of B
urged a c
'drawing a

Sharon, I Shamir an David Lev
violations.

Classified
Local...
National
Opinions
Sports...
State...
What's U

f
Today's
becoming
noon; hig
low tonig
day's fore
skies with