A&M signs junior college recruit

Texas Aggie basketball coach Shelby Metcalf says the past week, the first of the high school recruiting season, has been successful for him and his staff.

With Sunday's signing of 6-6 forward Lowell McHenry of Hill Junior College, Metcalf and assistants Barry Davis and John Thornton now have five recruits set to play basketball at Texas A&M next season. And Metcalf, who cited his primary recruiting objective as finding players with a good deal of height and bulk, says he may have found just what he wanted.

Roger Bock, a 6-10, 232-pound center from Santa Clara High School in Oxnard, Calif., is the Aggies' tallest recruit. Bock, who chose Texas A&M over Stanford and Washington State, plans to major in electrical engineering.

"Lowell's a real good athlete," Metcalf said. "We're excited about him. He's a big-play man, much like (Aggie guard) Reggie Roberts.

"We're real happy with Roger Bock. If there's an ounce of fat on him, you can have it."

The Aggies' other recruits, signed Wednesday, include 6-4 guard Doug Lee, from Washington, and guard Kenny Brown, from Tucson, Ariz., and forward Mike Clifford, an all-stater from Round Bay. McHenry averaged 17.3 points and 7.1 rebounds per game during the past season, when Hill Junior finished 20-10.

Aggies manage three first-place finishes at BU

by John Wagner

The Texas A&M men's track team came up with three first-place finishes in Friday's Baylor Invitational, but the Rice Owls finished with four to take the outstanding team award.

Rod Richardson and Kevin McGinnis led the Aggies with first-place finishes in the 100-meter dash and the shot put.

The shuttle hurdles relay team of Mike Glaspie, Craig Rick Thomas and Chappelle Henderson won the other first-place finish for the Aggies.

Richardson had a 10.43 time in the preliminaries and a 10.09 time in the finals, beating Baylor's Bruce Davis and Oklahoma's David Richardson. McGinnis threw a career best 61-1 in the shot put to win the title. Robert Windsor finished fourth in the shot put.

The shuttle hurdles relay team won with a time of 55.3 seconds. The Aggies' 400-meter relay team finished third behind Baylor and Baylor, clocking in at 40.22. Rice won the event with a time of 30.90.

The 800-meter relay team finished third in their event behind teams from TCU and Baylor. TCU finished with a time of 1:22.46, Baylor in 1:22.52 and the Aggies in 1:22.55. The race was so close that meet officials needed a photograph to determine the winner.

The Aggies had two second places in the hurdle events. Glaspie finishing second in the 110-meter high hurdles and Rick Thomas finishing second in the 400-meter hurdles.

The Aggies will be at home in Kyle Field this weekend when they host the Texas A&M Relays.

Battle zone Kings reign as Rockets lose home advantage

KANSAS CITY — Kansas City Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons decided to convert the basketball court into a war zone, designating Moses Malone as the beachhead and spent the entire afternoon invading that shore with fresh troops.

The Kings ended up winning the battle, 106-104, and Houston Rockets ended up losing the war. The regular season ending setback was a costly one for the Rockets, who lost their home-court advantage in the first round of the playoffs. The Kings forced the Rockets to open on the road against the Seattle SuperSonics.

Houston won three of its first five games against Kansas City this season with Malone frolicking at the expense of the Kings' rookie, foul-prone center Steve Johnson. But in the finale, European pusher Steve Johnson dispatched his 6-6 power forward Reggie King and reserve forward Kenny Derrard to battle Malone, who finished with 23 points and 17 rebounds.

The Kings led 85-76 through three quarters before Elvin Hayes and Mike Dunleavy asserted themselves with 21 fourth-quarter points to draw the Rockets back within two with 66 seconds remaining.

The Rockets had a final chance to tie but Malone missed his shot in the final five seconds.

Eddie Johnson scored 21 and Larry Drew 18 for Houston and Hayes added 20 points and Mike Dunleavy 16 for Houston.
