Bench's error paves Phillies' victory path

United Press International
In a game in which throws kept winding up where they didn't belong, all Johnny Bench did was follow the trend.
"We got the out we wanted," Cincinnati Manager John McNamara said Monday night after a throwing error by third baseman Bench with two out in the 15th inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over the Reds in a game marred by a bench-clearing brawl. "Johnny just didn't make the play."
Bob Dernier led off the 15th with a single off loser Bob Shirley, 2-3, and Pete Rose sacrificed him to second. After Mike Schmidt was walked intentionally, Gary Matthews sent Dernier to third with a flyout.
Manny Trillo then hit a grounder to Bench, whose low throw bounced past first baseman Dan Driessen to make a winner of Sid Monge, 2-0, who pitched the final 1 1/2 innings.
"It was a real team victory," said Philadelphia Manager Pat Corrales. "Everybody played a role."

Philadelphia, which entered the ninth with only one hit, rallied to tie the score.
The fight came in the seventh when Phillies' reliever Ron Reed drilled Mario Soto with a pitch after the Reds' starter had hit Schmidt and Dernier with pitches.
"I honestly believe there is a time when retaliation is needed," Reed said. "I don't know that Soto was throwing at our players, but he hit two of them."
Soto, Reed and Cincinnati shortstop Dave Concepcion were ejected from the game by plate umpire Harry Wendelstedt.
With one out in the ninth, Dernier walked and Rose flied out. Schmidt lined a single to center and Gary Matthews walked to load the bases. Bo Diaz then doubled to right to score two runs, knocking out Joe Price in favor of Jim Kern.
Trillo ran for Diaz and Garry Maddox lined a single to left.

Trillo barely beat the throw to the plate from right fielder Paul Householder to score the tying run.
Driessen drove in three runs with two homers to help the Reds to a 4-0 lead.
In other games, New York defeated Atlanta 10-4, San Diego outlasted Chicago 9-7, Los Angeles topped Pittsburgh 5-4 and St. Louis crushed San Francisco 11-6.
In the American League, it was Toronto 5, New York 4; Baltimore 8, Texas 7; Detroit 4, California 3; Cleveland 9, Minnesota 4; Boston 5, Oakland 2; Kansas City 11, Chicago 4; and Seattle 5, Milwaukee 4 in 11 innings.
Mets 10, Braves 4 — At New York, Charlie Puleo allowed six hits and struck out 10 in 7 1/2 innings and catcher John Stearns drove in three runs to spoil the return of Atlanta Manager Joe Torre. It marked Torre's first appearance at Shea Stadium since he was fired last season after five years as the Mets' manager.
Padres 9, Cubs 7 — At Chicago, Tim Flannery drove in three runs and Ruppert Jones and Sixto Lezcano each homered for the Padres. Chris Welsh, 3-1, pitched the first 6 1/2 innings and drove in two runs. Luis DeLeon picked up his second save. Doug Bird, 3-5, suffered the loss.
Dodgers 5, Pirates 4 — At Pittsburgh, Mike Scioscia, who had a second-inning solo homer, and pinch hitter Ken Landreaux each hit eighth-inning sacrifice flies to break a 3-3 tie. The victory went to reliever Steve Howe, 3-1, who pitched the seventh in relief of starter Ted Power.
Cardinals 11, Giants 6 — At St. Louis, Ozzie Smith, Willie McGee, and Tito Landrum drove in two runs apiece in a 10-run fourth for the Cardinals, who sent 15 batters to the plate. It was their biggest inning since July 17, 1980, and the biggest in the league this season.

Gerulaitis to face surprising Wilander

United Press International
PARIS — Fifth-seeded Vitas Gerulaitis of the United States must draw on his experience and speed today if he's to defeat Sweden's Mats Wilander in the quarterfinals of the French Open tennis championships.
Wilander, 17, put his name in the spotlight in the fourth round with an upset victory over No. 2-seed Ivan Lendl, who was considered one of the favorites to win the world's premier clay court tournament.

Willander said after his stunning 5-set triumph over Lendl. The quarterfinal match pits the net game of Gerulaitis against the hard-driving baseline shots of Wilander, heralded as the new Borg of tennis for his style of play as well as his nationality.
Winner of the French Open junior title last year, the tall Swede's toughest problem against Gerulaitis will be to play with the steadiness of a seasoned player.

The womens quarterfinals will see another seasoned player, Martina Navratilova, pitted against the raw enthusiasm of a virtual unknown, American Zina Garrison.

Playing her first tournament as a professional, Gerulaitis ousted seventh-seeded Yugoslav Mima Jausovec, 7-6, 6-1 in a first round match.

Also vying for a spot in the semifinals are seventh-seed Peter McNamara of Australia and Argentine Jose Luis Clerc, seeded No. 4.
Both players have struggled through four- or five-set marathon matches and could be fixed on setting a new record for the longest Grand Prix match.
McNamara broke the record two weeks ago in Hamburg when he lost in five sets to Spain's Jose Higuera in a final which lasted five hours and 20 minutes.

Runner-up to Sweden's Bjorn Borg here in 1980, Gerulaitis is shooting to capture his first Grand Slam title since the Australian Open in 1977. This year, he beat Wilander in Bussetts.
"I'll try to do my best, but all I can do is take it as it comes,"
