Police officer shoots, kills man

United Press International
HOUSTON — A Houston police officer shot and killed a rape suspect who allegedly pointed a gun at officers serving the man with a warrant, a sheriff's official said Saturday.

James Hill, 41, of Houston, was shot to death by Patrolman David M. Vaeza when he and two other uniformed police officers attempted to serve a warrant on Hill at his trailer house in north-central Harris

County about 9:30 p.m. Friday, a sheriff's official said. Harris County Sheriff's Cpl. Ronald Young said Hill, wanted on charges of aggravated rape and aggravated sexual abuse, pointed a chrome-plated pistol at the officers when they confronted him with the warrants. Vaeza fired one shot with a .12 gauge shotgun, striking Hill in the left side, Young said. Hill was pronounced dead at the scene.

Jury indicts 2 ex-DPS troopers

United Press International
HOUSTON — A Harris County grand jury has indicted two former Texas Department of Public Safety troopers on bribery charges accusing the pair of issuing driver's licenses to illegal aliens.

Alfredo Garcia, 28, of San Antonio, and Gilbert Candelaria, 28, of Houston, were charged with bribery for allegedly accepting $100 in return for issuing licenses to illegal aliens. Investigators said about 35 illegal aliens bought licenses.

Prosecutor Terry Wilson said both men resigned from the DPS in July 1981 during an internal investigation of their activities.

Wilson claimed the illegal aliens were granted the licenses without taking written tests and in some cases, without taking the actual driving test.

The alleged middleman of the scheme, Francisco Nava of Houston, was indicted on bribery charges several weeks ago, Wilson said.

Nava was accused of charging each applicant $150 and keeping $50 as his fee, Wilson said. An internal DPS probe into the illegal licensing scheme began in March 1981, when an illegal alien working as a Houston painter told another trooper that licenses could be obtained in exchange for a bribe, officials said.

When Garcia and Candelaria and other employees at the Pasadena DPS licensing station were questioned, they refused to cooperate and resigned, Wilson said.

Wilson said statements given by Nava, following his arrest on a traffic warrant, provided authorities with the information necessary to indict Garcia and Candelaria. If convicted of the bribery charge, each man could be sentenced to a maximum of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Jurors selected in murder trial

United Press International
HOUSTON — Testimony will begin Wednesday in the capital murder trial of former security guard Clifford X. Phillips, who is charged with the Jan. 13 strangulation of Alley Theatre Manager Iris Siff.

Twelve jurors and one alternate were chosen Friday to hear the case. Phillips, a former security guard at the Alley Theater, said in news interviews he strangled Siff in self-defense when she fought him during an attempted burglary at her Alley Theater office.

State experts already have concluded Phillips was sane and is mentally competent to stand trial, but defense attorney Ron Mock said Phillips would be examined by an independent psychiatrist to determine whether or not he is competent.

2 jailers indicted in civil rights case

United Press International
BEAUMONT — Two former Jefferson County jail employees have been indicted on civil rights charges stemming from the alleged beating of a jail inmate last year.

Lawrence William Wilson, 25, of Port Arthur, and Donald Byron Parish, 26, of Sour Lake, are accused of the Nov. 16, 1981, beating of jail inmate Joseph Granger, 22, of Beaumont.

Three days before the reported beating in November, Granger filed a lawsuit in federal court saying he was held in solitary confinement for 21 days and beaten every day. The suit claimed he was refused medical attention.

Granger remained jailed on charges of burglary and escape from the Jefferson County jail last year. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison on a separate charge of burglary of a vehicle.
