plays and know what's going on."

Despite some fine play in last week's game, Bullitt said he's concerned about the overall play of the Aggie defense, which has given up 598 yards by air.

"The linebackers haven't been dropping as good as we should have. We've been working on it," Bullitt said. "I think eventually we're going to be to where we want to be as far as stopping the passing game. Right now we've got a few weak spots."

"As far as being aggressive, we're not where we should be," he said. "We've really got to be an aggressive and physical defense if we want to do well in the Southwest Conference."

Bullitt said once again intensity and aggressiveness will be a key in cutting down the yards passing the Aggies allow.

"If we bang those guys up when they catch the ball, they won't be catching them," he said. "That's the attitude we've got to take."

Bullitt said this week's game should help the Aggies prepare for conference action since Louisiana Tech's Matt Dunigan is likely to pass more than the UT-A quarterbacks did last week.

"I think we're going to really go out there and stop all of that this week and get ready for the conference," Bullitt said.

"I think we really need to go out and bang this team around and do all we can to get our confidence built up and put all the bad things behind us."

Bullitt said he hopes Dunigan throws a lot of passes his way Saturday, and he's looking forward to repaying the Bulldogs for a bruise or two he suffered last year when he saw action in that game.

Pennant contenders strike out in upsets

United Press International
Steve Carlton is like a vulture when he sets his eyes on the St. Louis Cardinals.

The left-handed ace of the Philadelphia Phillies' pitching staff has devastated his ex-teammates since they traded him in 1972.

In a game the Phillies had to win Tuesday night, Carlton went out and ravaged the Cardinals again, beating them 5-2 behind a 14-strikeout performance for his 35th career triumph in 45 decisions against his ex-teammates.

The victory snapped St. Louis' eight-game winning streak and moved the Phillies to within 4½ games of the Cardinals, who have 11 games remaining. Philadelphia has 12 left.

Detroit, meanwhile, is relishing its role as a spoiler.

The Tigers put together an 11-1 rout of Baltimore, which is just two games behind the American League East Division leading Milwaukee Brewers, who also lost.

The defeat was only the Orioles' third in their last 13 games.

For Detroit, Mike Laga knocked in three runs with a single and a double to highlight an eight-run third inning and Chet Lemon added a homer. Lemon's two-run homer in the fourth, his 16th, made it 10-1 and Lance Parrish hit a solo homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 6-5, Chicago blanked Pittsburgh 1-0, Houston topped Atlanta 5-3, New York defeated Montreal 21 then lost 5-1 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 3-0.

In American League games, California edged Kansas City 21, Boston topped Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings, Detroit walloped Baltimore 11-1, Seattle downed Chicago 5-3, Toronto defeated Minnesota 5-1, Oakland whipped Texas 6-1 and Cleveland edged New York 9-8 then lost 6-2.

REDS 6, GIANTS 5 — At Cincinnati, rookie Gary Redus drove in two runs and scored twice to spark the Reds to victory over the Giants before 6,038 fans — smallest crowd in Riverfront Stadium history. Bob Shirley, with relief help from Ben Hayes, halted the Giants despite a three-run seventh inning outburst.

CUBS 3, PIRATES 1 — At Chicago, Jody Davis smashed a two-out single off reliever Rod Scurry in the seventh inning to score Gary Woods with the game's only run and lift the Cubs. The triumph was the sixth straight for the Cubs, who had only three hits, and matched their losing winning streak of the season.

ASTROS 5, BRAVES 3 — At Houston, De Heep doubled to knock in two runs and short Rafael Ramirez committed a two-run error helping the Astros to victory. The loss left Braves three games behind the Dodgers in the West. It was the Astros' fifth victory over Braves in the last nine days.

METS 2-1, EXPOS 1-5 — At New York, Gardenhire socked a leadoff homer in the first inning to give the Mets a victory in the first. Chris Speier's home run and an RBI double pitcher Scott Sanderson ignited a four-run inning that enabled the Expos to salvage a split double-header.

PADRES 3, DODGERS 0 — At San Diego, John Montefusco and Luis DeLeon combined a six-hitter in pitching the Padres to victory. Montefusco, who went seven innings and gave three hits to even his record at 10-10, also down a squeeze bunt in the fifth inning to Luis Salazar with the second run of a two-inning.

RED SOX 4, BREWERS 3 — At Milwaukee, Jim Rice's two-out single to center scored a run. Hoffman from the third base with the run in the 10th inning to spark the Red Sox. Hoffman led off the 10th with a double off Doc Medich, 11-14, and Dwight Bernard ran.

ANGELS 2, ROYALS 1 — At Anaheim, pinch hitter Daryl Sconiers singled home a runner Gary Pettis with one out in the ninth to increase the Angels' lead to two games over the Royals in the West. It was the fourth straight triumph and the Royals' straight loss.

INDIANS 9-2, YANKEES 8, 6 — At New York, Dave Righetti fired a six-hitter and Jerry M phrey broke a 2-2 tie with a sacrifice fly in the eighth to boost the Yankees in the nightcap. In the opener, a nine-game losing streak. In the opener, error by second baseman Willie Randolph on the bases loaded allowed Mike Hargrove to score from third base and capped a four-run ninth inning that lifted the Indians.

BLUE JAYS 5, TWINS 1 — At Minnesota, Willie Upshaw hit a solo homer and an RBI double and Garth Iorg drove in two runs with a double and a single to power the Blue Jays and Stieb, 15-14.
