Dow continues record advance

United Press International
 NEW YORK — Dow Jones industrial pushed substantially above the 1,000 level again Wednesday as Wall Street's historic rally received a boost from lower interest rates.

Oil stocks, which had lagged the rally that began in mid-August, were among the strongest issues in the early going in what analysts said was a game of catch-up.

The Dow Jones industrial average, down more than 4 points at the outset after falling 9.11 Tuesday, was ahead 11.13 to 1,014.81 at noon EDT. It closed at 1,003.68 Tuesday.

The closely watched average soared through the 1,000 level for the first time in 15 months Monday with a 25.94-point gain to 1,012.79, its highest level since finishing at 1,016.93 on April 28, 1981.

Through Monday, the Dow had gained 109.61 points over the previous five sessions and 235.87 points since the rally began Aug. 13.

Several analysts think the widely followed barometer will challenge its all-time high of 1,051.70 set on Jan. 11, 1973.

Buying appeared to pick up when Bankers Trust, Chase Manhattan, Citibank and Irving Trust all cut their prime lending rate a full point to 12 percent. Four other major banks made the move Tuesday.

The price of an average New York Stock Exchange share was up 42 cents. Advances led declines 1,028-455 among the 1,837 issues crossing the NYSE tape.

Big Board volume at the two-hour mark amounted to about 58,600,000 shares, down from the 58,600,000 traded during the same period Tuesday.
