Nixon still popular in Halloween circles

by United Press International

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Masks of former President Nixon rank right in there with werewolves and Frankenstein as most popular Halloween disguises, the owner of a costume company says.

Harold Overton, owner of the Kansas City Carnival supply company, said that although political masks aren't popular this year, plenty of Nixons will be sold among the E.T.s and Pac-

Mans on Halloween.

Ronald Reagan masks are not selling as well as Nixon masks, and Overton does not offer masks of Democrats at all.

"Carter never did sell," he said.

The costume company owner predicted the trick-or-treat scene from "E.T." will be replayed thousands of times this Halloween.

Over-the-head Pac Man masks also are selling briskly.
