Arrival brings demonstrations

Pakistan leader tours U.S.

United Press International
HOUSTON — About 50 demonstrators greeted the arrival of Pakistan President Mohammad Zia ul-Haq outside a Houston hotel Saturday by chanting, waving placards and calling for the restoration of human rights in the strife-torn country.

Zia, arriving in Texas for a two-day visit which will include a stop at the Johnson Space Center, waved at the group as he drove past and continued to the hotel entrance about 50 yards from the streetside demonstration.

Brandishing signs proclaimed "Flog the Dictator Zia, not the people" and "Down with Zia," the group chanted: "We want elections. We want democracy."

One protestor, Dr. Ghulam Hussain, a leader of the Pakistan People's Party and former minister of railways under the regime of the late Prime Minister Aulfiqar Ali Bhutto, said the demonstration was aimed at the lack of human rights in Pakistan.

"It is disappointing that a great country like yours would support the worst dictator of the times — Zia," Hussain said. "Pakistani people who oppose Zia's government are flogged and jailed."

He said the American public should ask the Reagan Administration to demand restoration of human rights in Pakistan and insist that aid to the country be tied to improving the situation. "When there's martial law in Poland, you're very much flared up and show a lot of concern. When there's martial law in Pakistan, you are supporting the dictator," Hussain said.

Zia, who was greeted at the airport by Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire and various civic and business leaders made no remarks upon arrival. He was whisked to a waiting police escort and entourage of 16 limousines before departing for his hotel.

One spokesman for the Pakistan People's Front, Irfan Ahmed called for the release of political prisoners in Pakistan.

"We would like to see all political prisoners released in Pakistan. We want martial law to be lifted and elections for the presidency and parliament to be held as soon possible," Hussain said.

on a tour of the United States and Canada. Before coming to Texas, he spent nearly two days in New York where he met with former President Jimmy Carter and former State Secretary Henry Kissinger.

Zia was met by protesters at the airport.

During his Houston visit, Zia planned a meeting with Texas Governor Mark White and Texas Petroleum Association President W.D. Geitz to discuss oil and gas exploration in the state.

"We have production in the Indus Basin in the southern part of Pakistan. We are planning to develop that field and we have a very good technology well that is also being developed outside that area," said Zia.

Zia will visit NASA's Johnson Space Center Sunday and then for Sacramento, Calif.
