Extension Service honored

Three staff members of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service have been cited for distinguished service by the Alpha Zeta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national honorary extension fraternity.

Presented the State Distinguished Service Award were Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, assistant director for home economics; Dr. William E. Black, economist in marketing and policy; Roy B. Davis, distinguished professor of agricultural cooperation; and Dr. John R. Beverly, animal reproduction specialist.

Mucci named committee chairman

David T. Mucci, Senior Program adviser at the Memorial Student Center, has been appointed chairman of the National Issues and Ideas committee of the National Association for Campus Activities.

NACA, with its home office in Columbia, S.C., is the largest and most influential organization in the field of campus activities programming. NACA has a current membership of about 1,000 colleges and universities and 600 associated firms in the contemporary entertainment, performing and fine arts, recreation, travel, and leisure industries.

Mucci has been Senior Program Adviser since 1981. He has a B.A. in English and an M.B.A. in business administration from the University of Kentucky.

Benefit wine tasting party scheduled

The Friends of KAMU will host the group's third annual wine tasting party Thursday at the Aggieldand Inn in College Station.

The event will benefit Texas A&M's public television and radio stations and will feature more than three dozen foreign and domestic wines, as well as cheeses, fruits and breads. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. with an explanation of how a wine tasting works. Participants will then have several hours to sample wines and record their observations.

Tickets for the wine tasting are $10 each and are available at KAMU, Randy's Liquor, Dillard's department store, the Aggieldand Inn or at the door.

Local wine expert Ira Held is coordinating the evening's beverages, with the help of Sharon Knutson and Lee Schink.

College of Medicine to sponsor talk

William Labov, professor of linguistics and psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, will present a lecture on "The Language of Life and Death," Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. in 301 Rudder.

The lecture in the first in a series sponsored by the College of Medicine Development Council, the purpose of which is to "generate and sustain intellectual conversation among the colleges and the disciplines."

Vandiver to visit Washington D.C.

Texas A&M University President Frank E. Vandiver has accepted an invitation by President Reagan to attend White House proclamation ceremonies Thursday for U.S. World Communications Year 83.

Vandiver was named a member of the U.S. Council for World Communications Year 83, part of a United Nations information-appreciation program planned for next year.

In related activities, Dr. and Mrs. Vandiver will attend a reception Thursday evening at the Department of State.

The U.S. Council for World Communications Year 83 includes corporate executives, leaders of foundations and professional and trade associations and presidents of other universities.

A&M to receive historical marker

Preparations are being made at Texas A&M for the installation of a Texas Historical Marker commemorating the university as the first institution of higher learning in the state.

The marker, which will be mounted on a brick pedestal, will be located on the north side of the East Main entrance to the university off Texas Avenue. A two-car pull off area will be located at the site of the marker.

The installation probably will be completed sometime this month, depending on weather conditions.

Gulf gives $7,500 to grad program

Gulf Oil Corp. has given $7,500 to Texas A&M's Industrial Engineering Department for its graduate computer science program.

Reid Rogers, of Gulf's Houston office, presented the check to Texas A&M officials.

About $6,500 of the grant went to graduate student John Fernandez of San Antonio, selected on the basis of academic excellence. The funds will be used to support Fernandez' graduate research in computer science.

Burglars target of campaign

A burglary occurs every two minutes in Texas, leaving behind losses that cannot be-answer to this growing problem. The simple act of locking one's home before leaving reduces the chances of burglary by 20 percent. The Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is trying to see that criminals who make their living by stealing from others are put behind bars.

For January, Texas Crime Stoppers is focusing its statewide Crime of the Month program on burglary. Any citizen having information about a particular burglary is asked to call the anti-crime hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS.

placed. In Texas, burglary rings account for $245 million in stolen goods annually — an average loss of $966 per home. Crime prevention is one

Roofing cause parking change

Students and faculty who park in Lot 36 or Lot 38 near the Veterinary Sciences Building on the west campus may find their parking spaces temporarily closed.

The Veterinary Sciences Building will be getting a new foam roof soon, and the lots will be partially closed while the roof is installed.

Alternate parking is available in Lot 63 near Olsen Field. A temporary shuttle service will run from the lot to the Veterinary Sciences Building. The bus was scheduled to run at 7 a.m. today. Buses will run every half hour.

The construction will take at least 10 days to complete. The parking spaces will be used until the new roof is installed.

Cadets attend inauguration

A detachment of cadets from the Texas A&M Ross Volunteers will serve as the official honor guard for Gov.-elect Mark White's inauguration Tuesday in Austin.

Ninety members of the Ross Volunteers are among several Corps of Cadets units taking part in inaugural events and will form the ceremonial saber arch White will walk under at the swearing-in ceremonies.

The Aggie Band and son's Mounted Cavalry will participate in the inauguration at 3 p.m. The parade begins on Congress Avenue between Third and Eleventh streets.

The Ross Volunteers serve as official escort to the governor's entourage at the inaugural balls at the Auditorium and the Erwin Center in Austin.
