Pope signs revised code of canon law

United Press International
VATICAN CITY — The signing Tuesday of a new code of canon law by Pope John Paul II represents 23 years of work that reduced church regulations but retained excommunication for abortion and abolished lenient marriage annulments.
The new code, the first major revision of church rules since 1917, represents a "major simplification and streamlining" of the rules that bind all Roman Catholics, Archbishop John R. Roach of St. Paul-Minneapolis said Monday.
The code includes 1,700 articles in seven sections and is the work of church theologians.
The code reflects many of the liberalizing changes in the church since the reforms of Vatican II in 1965.
But it retains the ban on women priests and the automatic excommunication for abortion. It also abolishes lenient rules to annul a marriage which has been followed in the United States and Australia for the past 13 years.

Under the special rules, which came to be known as "the American norms," annulment cases did not require automatic review by a church marriage tribunal.
The new code stipulates that all annulment decrees must be reviewed by a panel of three church marriage court judges.
The new code also retains only six of the old code's 37 excommunicable offenses.
One dropped offense was the ban on cremation. It had been considered a pagan practice that attempted to deny the resurrection of the body, a cornerstone of the Roman Catholic faith.
Automatic excommunication for joining Masonic groups also was dropped from the new code. Masonry has had a history of strong anti-Catholicism but this is no longer considered a sin. In addition to abortion, new code's five other excommunicable offenses are: Violation of the seal of confession: when a priest closes what he has heard in confession. Absolution of an accused person, then forgives the sin. Profanation of the consecrated communion host. Catholics believe is the body of Jesus Christ. Consecration of hosts by other bishops without approval. Attacks on the person of the pope. Other types of excommunications can be imposed by church judicial bodies. Communicated Catholics receive any of the sacraments until he repents. priest.

GENERAL HOUSING STATEMENT
The Housing Office has spaces available for men and women in on-campus housing for the Spring 1983 semester. These vacancies are available due to an unusually high number of last minute cancellations and no-shows. The Housing Office has attempted to call many students on the waiting list to offer them a space but most of them are already committed to a lease. The breaking of any lease or the abandonment of a roommate is strictly discouraged, but for those students who are living in temporary quarters, at home, or without a lease, please be aware of the few available spaces on campus. The available spaces for both men and women are spread among all the halls on campus. If interested contact the Housing Office for more information. (845-4744). 8315

Texas plane crashes, 4 die
United Press International
GUATEMALA CITY — Three Americans and a Salvadoran woman were killed when their private plane crashed Monday in the dense jungle of Guatemala's northern Peten province, authorities said.
The U.S. Embassy in Guatemala City said local authorities informed the mission the plane apparently crashed into a river with Belice. There is no other information.
"We haven't seen any reports and don't have any identification," an embassy spokesman said.
Guatemala City flight controllers confirmed a single-engine Cessna 210 carrying the U.S. license number N1725X crashed killing one aboard.
An airport controller worker said the pilot, Ken Partley, radioed the airport he was flying to Guatemala with three passengers: Marshall, Galey Marshall, Juanita Saldivar. But the never arrived.
However, the Guatemala news reports provided names of the American identified the three as Gary and Daisy Marshall was no explanation for the fusion about the names.
