(continued from page 11) will face a team they defeated 84-61 in a January conference opener. But Gettys still remembers Texas A&M's 95-77 victory over UH here last season. "They just beat the spit out of us up there in every aspect of the game — just a good lickin'," he said. "I really don't forget little things like that. What got me mad is the way the A&M players reacted to it." Gettys wouldn't elaborate on just how the Aggies reacted to their victory, but he said the Cougars still have a score to settle.

Gettys said the Cougars must control the scoring of Aggie forward Claude Riley, who scored 38, 28 and 24 points in three games with UH last year.

"Claude always lights us up, so we'll definitely have to be ready for him," he said. "And there's been a lot of talk about Darrell Walker and Alvin Robertson up at Arkansas, but (Aggie guard) Reggie Roberts plays as good if not better defense than both of those two.

"(Guard) Tyren Naulls is as consistent as anybody I've seen. The freshman center (Jimmie Gilbert) is coming along real well. And that freshman who can shoot from 900 feet (Kenny Brown) is really something else, too."

Clippers down Pistons, 115-108

United Press International
The San Diego Clippers have stopped getting in their own way long enough to send some opponents stumbling.

"We've been playing better ever since we started playing good pressure defense," Clippers' coach Paul Silas said Thursday night after rookie Terry Cummings scored a team-high 29 points in a 115-108 victory over Detroit that sent the Pistons to a closed-door meeting after the game.

Tom Chambers had 21, Jerome Whitehead 19, Al Wood 16 and Lionel Hollins added 15 as San Diego won for the fifth time in its last seven games.

"Down the stretch with about three minutes to go our defense really picked up," said Silas. "We started to deny them (Pistons). That was the key."

Detroit lost for the fourth time in its last five games — the last three to the NBA's lowest teams and, after the game, the Pistons held a 20-minute, closed-door meeting.

The Pistons' Kelly Tripucka had 33 points and Isaiah Thomas added 26.

San Diego led 82-80 entering the final quarter but Detroit, 23-25, rallied and at one point held a five-point lead midway through the period. The Clippers, 15-33, responded with seven straight points to take a 101-99 lead with just over four minutes remaining.

"We didn't play as well as we're capable of, we played as if we were tired," said Detroit coach Scotty Robertson. "They out-defensed us, pressured us and took our passes away."

Pistons' star guard John Long was slightly injured in a two-car auto accident Thursday night en route to the Pontiac Silverdome and did not play.

In other games, Denver hammered Atlanta 126-112 and Philadelphia held off Golden State 117-111.

At Atlanta, Alex English scored 36 points to pace Denver. Kiki Vandeweghe finished with 30 points and Dan Issel had 25. T.R. Dunn had 11 rebounds and 16 points. Roundfield led Hawks with 29 points and Erving had 23 points and assists. Dominique Wilkins and Rudy Macklin each scored points.

At Oakland, Calif., Erving hit three free throws the final 13 seconds to seal Philadelphia's victory. Golden State pulled within three points 114-111 on two free throws. Louis Lloyd with 21 seconds foul to get the ball back. Erving made 1-of-2 free throws with seconds to play and then he gave the 76ers their sixth straight victory and 40th win of the season.
