Bill ups medics' training

United Press International
AUSTIN — Two senators Thursday filed legislation that would upgrade minimum standards for the equipment and training of personnel who deliver emergency medical services in Texas.

Under the current law enacted in 1943, an ambulance may have only one attendant, who may be the driver, with the equivalent of eight hours of Red Cross first aid training.

The bill co-sponsored by Sens. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, and Bill Sarpalus, D-Amarillo, mandates four levels of personnel certification with a minimum of 40 hours of training approved by the state.

"Laws to regulate ambulances have not been updated in Texas over the past 40 years," said Sarpalus.

'Magic carpet' makes energy

United Press International
HOUSTON — It's not exactly a magic carpet, but a Florida machine shop owner says he has invented a unique device that slides under carpet and produces electricity when walked across.

The "electricity producing floor" generates power from footsteps.

"It's really very simple," said

Roy Lundgren, inventor of device.

The two-inch thick device, flat, metal plates on the top, when someone walks across plates, his weight pushes down on small rocker arms that are mounted on a shaft with gears. The clutches force the shaft to turn and drive a generator to produce the electricity.

"This can be used anywhere there is a lot of pedestrian traffic ... in subways, shopping malls and airports," Lundgren said.

Lundgren, 56, recently played his invention at the Energy-sources Technology Conference and Exhibition in Houston.

The model looked like a piece of carpet. It felt lumpy, not uncomfortable to walk across. It made no noise.

Lundgren said he's had inquiries from more than 750 corporations. However, none has offered to buy or manufacture the device.

Lundgren said the device generates about 20 watts per step — enough to power small appliances and lamps, but manufacturers estimate the device could generate as much as 150 watts per step.
