PUC nominees expected to set 'honest' utility rates

United Press International
AUSTIN — While he would not promise lower utility bills, Gov. Mark White says his two new nominees to the Public Utility Commission will make sure Texans get honest utility bills from now on.
 White kept one of his campaign promises by appointing a housewife to the PUC, which lost two of its three members Tuesday by resignation.
 Within four hours of the surprise resignations by George Cowden and Tommie Gene Smith, White appointed El Paso housewife Peggy Rosson, 47, and former PUC member Alan Erwin, 38, of Houston to the panel.
 Rosson, who succeeds Smith, was appointed to a term that will expire Sept. 1, 1987. She has been a member of the Public Utility Regulatory Board in El Paso since 1978 and chairs the board.
 Erwin, a charter member of the commission from 1975 until 1979, replaced Cowden and will serve a term that ends Sept. 1, 1983.

 Both nominations must be confirmed by the Senate.
 White, who used the utility rate issue to help upset former Gov. Bill Clements in last fall's gubernatorial campaign, had vowed to appoint a housewife to the PUC, which White has accused of being more concerned about utility companies than ratepayers.
 Earlier in the day, Cowden and Smith announced their resignations effective March 1, saying they wanted to give White's administration a chance to run the controversial utility regulatory agency.
 White called the resignations delightful and said he was prepared to accept the resignation of the third PUC member, chairman H.M. Rollins.
 The governor told reporters that he telephoned Rollins

Tuesday afternoon to ask if his resignation was in the mail. White said Rollins told him he would wait to see who the new PUC members were before he decided whether to quit.
 "I'd like to be batting 3-0 today," White said. "That would be fine. He (Rollins) has that opportunity (to resign) every day. He said it (resignation) wasn't in the mail."
 Commenting on the resignations of Cowden and Smith, White said, "There's the old saying about the heat in the kitchen, and maybe that's what happened."
 Asked if he thought the new commissioners could lower utility rates in Texas, White replied, "We're going to have honest utility bills from now on."
 Cowden made the resignation announcements during a speech to an Austin civic club.
 "I can hardly wait for our rates to go down," he said. "Those who think it is easy to work out these problems, who froth at the mouth and appointed to the commission some of them will have the opportunity."

 A member of the PUC in 1975, Cowden said he was tired of criticism, adding, "I'm tired, I think. I've been there long time."
 The announcement came the conclusion of a speech Cowden in which he blasted White's proposals for an elected PUC and the abolishment of fuel adjustment clause.
 Cowden said that an elected PUC would be a serious mistake and that there was no way to make electric companies pay fuel costs as proposed by White.
 Smith was appointed by Cowden in January 1982, but had not been confirmed by the Senate. The retired Army general said he learned the news of his confirmation was non-existent.

NRA, cops fight over bill

Killer bullet act reviewed

United Press International
AUSTIN — Bullets that can pierce armor vests are designed for a single purpose — killing police officers — and should be outlawed in Texas, several law enforcement agents told a Legislative House committee.
 Policemen from several Texas cities testified Tuesday that the so-called "cop killer" bullets threatened the lives of officers and others who wear supposedly bullet-proof flak jackets for protection.

 "I see no justifiable reason for this bullet," Jerry Spain of the Texas Municipal Police Commission told members of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee. "The bullet simply does no good for anybody and can do a lot of harm to many."

 Sgt. D.E. Golden of the Richardson police department said, "We do not get paid to take unnecessary risks. I believe the availability of this kind of ammunition is an unnecessary risk."
 Golden said opposition to bills outlawing cop-killer bullets represented "a frail argument compared to officers' lives."
 National Rifle Association spokesmen said they would support legislation that banned only the KTW bullet, a Teflon-coated projectile that travels at high velocity and can pass through the soft flak jackets. But the NRA opposed two proposed bills that prohibited a general category of armor-piercing bullets.

 "Birdshot will go through (bulletproof) vest if it's from a handmade pistol. There are a lot of things that go through a vest," NRA spokesman Herb Chambers of Dallas said. "If a policeman thinks he's bulletproof, he's wrong."
 Richard Behan of Dallas executive director of the State Rifle Association said, "I feel the bill as now written is ambiguous and needs to be clarified, and if you mean KTW bullets, say so."
 The committee agreed to send the bills to a subcommittee for further study.

Gas tax would help fix roads

United Press International
AUSTIN — A 10 percent state tax on the retail price of a gallon of gasoline would generate an additional $550 million yearly, says the chairman of the state Department of Highways and Public Transportation Commission.
 Robert Dedman, testifying Tuesday before a House subcommittee conducting hearings on the department's budget, said the 10 percent tax could replace the state's current 5-cent gas tax.
 He said his estimate of $550 million depends on the price of gasoline remaining at about $1 per gallon.
 "I'd rather raise the percentage tax on gas than raise registration fees," Dedman said. "The percentage tax is paid even if fuel is bought and is not a shot deal and as gas goes up, it does too."

 "Our highway department is in a crisis posture," Dedman said. "Houston alone needs a billion a year over a period of years to get back to where they enjoyed in 1975."
 The Legislative Budget Board has recommended a special appropriation of $3 billion for the department's needs, but the agency needs $5 billion.
 He said the new federal gasoline tax, which goes into effect April 1, will bring out $400 million a year in state.
