Chicago candidate gets death threats

United Press International
CHICAGO — Harold Washington, candidate for nayor, is stepping up security as result of death threats he has received.

Washington won a three-way Democratic primary, defeating Mayor Jane Byrne and State's Attorney Richard Daley. He is he favorite to defeat Republian Bernard Epton in the April ty's first black mayor.

"We have had several threats," Washington campaign manager Al Raby said Wednesday at a news conference. Washington had planned to attend the event but canceled abruptly.

Raby said threats had been received before Washington defeated Daley and Byrne. More threats were received after the voting Tuesday, he said.

He would not detail the nature of the threats but ascribed

Raby did not directly link the threats to racial tensions that marred the final days of the Democratic mayoral primary. However, many observers have speculated bigotry might lead some Democrats to support Epton in the general election to prevent a black man from be-disavow race as an issue.

United Press International WASHINGTON — Sending 120,000 Japanese-Americans to relocation camps during World War II was not militarily necessary and followed a long and ugly history of racism against them on the West Coast, a federal panel said Thursday.

The Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians spread the blame widely in its final report, starting with President Franklin D. Roosevelt who it said did not calm the public hysteria after Pearl Harbor, and who 10 weeks later signed the order to round up the Japanese-Americans.

American citizens and resident aliens of Japanese ancestry, who without individual review or any probative evidence against them, were excluded, removed Congress in 1980, heard more and detained by the United States during World War II," the commission said.

The commission made no recommendations in its report "Personal Justice Denied" but will issue those separately. The panese-Americans. recommendations are believed to include reparations, although far smaller in amount than the $3 billion some Japanese-American groups sought.

The commission, created by days of hearings. Its members included Arthur S. Flemmi former chairman of the C Rights Commission, and for Supreme Court Justice Arthuram is s J. Goldberg.
