Stoll pitches 1-0 victories

Softball team tops Pomona

by John P. Lopez
Battalion Staff

After pitching her third no-hitter while defeating Cal Poly-Pomona 1-0 Wednesday, naturally Lori Stoll celebrated.

It wasn't an ordinary celebration though. Stoll celebrated by defeating Pomona a second time by an identical 1-0 score limiting the Californians to four hits.

In all, Stoll struck out 21 and walked three while raising her season record to 6-2. Despite her overpowering performance, however, the Texas A&M softball team is concerned with how much more abuse Stoll's arm can take.

After Wednesday's double-header sweep, Stoll has now pitched 22 consecutive innings for the Aggies, has faced 85 batters and has thrown 273 pitches.

Lori Stoll's two triumphs give Aggies a 10-4 record

And there is no relief in sight for the Aggie Ladies' left-hander. Shan McDonald, the other Texas A&M pitcher, reinjured an elbow in a recent game against Cal State-Fullerton and is not expected to throw for the remainder of the current west-coast swing.

Texas A&M will play Utah Friday in the Pony Invitational, but the Aggies need to have a stronger performance at the plate.

In Wednesday's games, Texas A&M only had eight hits in the two games and scored just one run in each game. In the second game, it took an extra-inning rally of Cooper and Jackie Carter for Texas A&M to put away Pomona.

Tarkanian voted Coach of Year

United Press International
NEW YORK — Jerry Tarkanian, who helped make basketball a headline act at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, today was named UPI's Coach of the Year.

The Rebels enjoyed their finest season in the 25 years basketball has been played at the school. Given little regard as a national power at the start of the year, UNLV won its first 24 games. At the time it was the only major school to be undefeated.

The Rebels concluded their season with a 28-3 record and a No. 6 ranking. They were defeated by North Carolina State in their first game in the NCAA Tournament.

In balloting by 152 sports writers and broadcasters across the country, Tarkanian was an easy winner with 52 votes. Lou Carnesecca of St. John's was second with 25 and Guy Lewis of Houston was third with 15.

"It's just a tremendous honor," Tarkanian said. "I'm very flattered."

Powered by the outstanding play of 6-foot-9 forward Sidney Green, the outside shooting of Larry Anderson and the reliable hand of point guard Danny Tarkanian, the Rebels were one of the best the West had to offer in basketball this season.

But after reeling off 24 straight victories and soaring to the No. 1 ranking, UNLV tumbled from the summit. The Rebels lost consecutive road games to Fullerton State and West Virginia. Having qualified for the NCAA Tournament as winner of the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, the Rebels hit the exit doors in a hurry, losing 71-70 to N.C. State in the West Regional on a tip-in by Thurl Bailey with three seconds to go.

Tarkanian has been an outlaw of sorts in college basketball. In 1973 he left Long Beach State some 10 months before the school was placed on probation for three years. Then in 1977, with Tarkanian at the helm, UNLV was hit with a two-year probation sentence, charged with illegal recruiting among other violations.

The school was directed by the NCAA to suspend Tarkanian for two years. But he stayed on as a result of court appeals and protracted legal... ing and the matter... resolved.
