Alliance

(continued from page 1)

"Many people in Europe are worried about nuclear arms," Schmidt said during the press conference. "Their concerns are understandable. There are 5,000 nuclear warheads in West Germany Heath said: "Tens of thousands of young people are genuinely concerned about nuclear weapons We have had great amounts of public discussion in our country about nuclear deterrence. I think that is the way to deal with it.' When asked whether Soviet propaganda has influenced the think a nuclear freeze is enough.

"The key words that are usually brought up (at arms negotiations) are 'mutually veri-fiable freeze," Ford said. "That is not adequate. I believe we need a mutually verifiable reduction.

propaganda has influenced we growing nuclear freeze move-ment, Schmidt, Ford and Heath had not seen any direct arms negotiations. Heath added west should not be Ford told reporters he didn't overly concerned with temporary setbacks in arms talks

"We must consider the long haul," Heath said. "It is always the long haul with the Soviet Union. They say the same things over and over. They get very boring

"They have signed treaties in And the three men agreed the past and we may get future treaties

Schmidt added that the Soviet Union usually has kept the treaties it has signed with the United States.

The three former leaders agreed that Reagan's anti-Soviet rhetoric only harms negotiation efforts.

Heath said: "I absolutely loathe it. If you come out in pub-lic and say: 'This is an evil man,' then why are you sitting down at the table with him? If we only dealt with people we liked, it would only be the three of us here.

One way to further arms take advantage of them.

negotiations with the Soviet Union, he said, is to consider such Soviet problems as outdated industries, a low standard of living and trouble with its satellite countries. In addition, Heath said: "They have to buy from you, the US 20 cillion to the local for the local for the Western Alliance should praise its grand strate said during this concluding marks. "It's time now a Western Alliance should marks." It's time now a Western Alliance should said trouble with its satellite said during this concluding marks." It's time now a western Alliance should said trouble with its satellite said during this concluding marks." It's time now a western Alliance should said during this concluding the said said the said said the said said trouble with its satellite said during this concluding the said said said the said the said the said sa and trouble with its satellite

Schmidt agreed that economic issues to arms

tions is the ideal for w

Western Alliance tries to

'And that might tak

all into a logical framew

evening in Texas."

U.S., 23 million tons of grain a year to keep themselves alive. They have enormous problems, and we in negotiations should more time than we have

Chinese defector can stay

United Press International WASHINGTON — The Jus-tice Department announced Monday that Chinese tennis star Hu Na, 19, who defected to the United States in July, has been granted asylum in the United States.

The government's decision ends months of uncertainty for the tennis player who defected to the United States during a tennis tournament in Santa Clara, Calif., July 20 and applied for political asylum July 26.

Arthur Brill, Justice Department spokesman, said in a brief announcement that there would be no further comment on the action.

Hu Na was granted asylum under the Refugee Act of 1980 which provides that asylum can be granted in cases where an ap-plicant establishes a well-founded fear of persecution, due to their race, religion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in a specific social group.

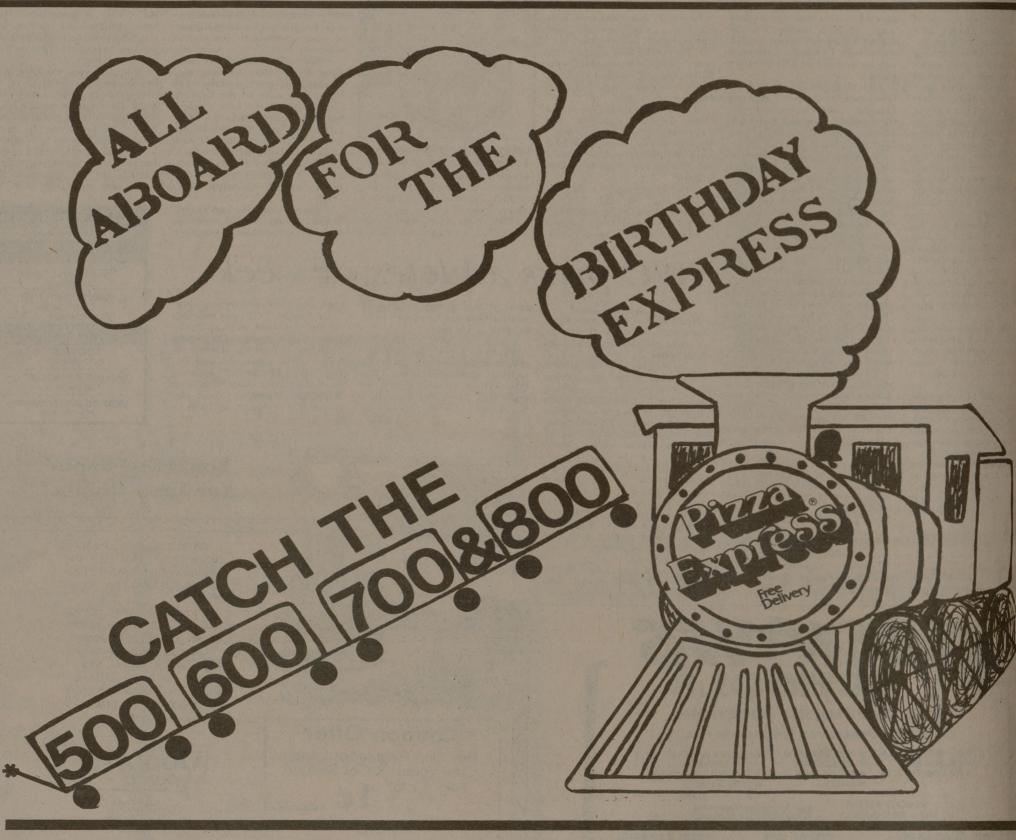

In recent interviews, Hu Na told reporters she believed Chinese officials had been trying to coerce her into joining the Communist Party, and that she feared she would be caught up in factional political struggles in China.

Officials in Peking had de-manded that she be returned to China.

The State Department recommended last year that the athlete be granted asylum, but the head of the Immigration and Nationalization Service was reported to have recommended that she not be granted asylum.

The INS was reported to be worried that giving her asylum would create a precedent that might be used by more than 1,000 other Chinese citizens now in the United States who have applied for asylum.

Swanson, 84, dies

United Press International NEW YORK — Actress Gloria Swanson died in her sleep early Monday, a spokesman for New York Hospital said. She was 84. The spokesman said Swan-son, who had been admitted to the hospital on March 20, died at 4:45 a.m.

Earl Blackwell, president of Celebrity Services, a friend of Swanson's, said last week that she had suffered a slight heart attack.

Swanson, who turned 84 on March 27, began her career playing bit parts in silent movies. A great, great grandmother, she made the classic "Sunset Boulevard" in 1950, playing the part of an aging actress living in the past. She and William Holden were named best actress and actor of the year for their roles in that movie.

Her career spanned 60 years from her early days in silent films to the mid-1970s when she played herself in the second Airport" movie.

When she was in her 20s, Swanson, by her own account, had a sizzling romance with Joseph P. Kennedy, father of John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy.

She began her career at 15 in Hollywood starring as a bathing beauty in Mack Sennett comedies. She made more than 50 silent films, as a torrid vamp in such Cecil B. DeMille produc-tions as "Don't Change Your Husband," "Male and Female" and "Affairs of Anatole.

She was married, in order, to actor Wallace Beery, re-staurateur William Somborn, the Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudraye, Irish sportsman Michael Farmer, millionaire yachtsman William Davey, and William Duffy.

WE'RE CELEBRATING!

(1 YEAR IN OUR 2ND LOCATION) APRIL 5,6,7&8:

ANY 12" PIZZA

$5.00

CAMPUS

SOUTH BRYAN

846-7785

(TAX INCLUDED)

ANY 14" PIZZA

$6.00

222

ANY 16" PIZZA

WITH 5 ITEMS OR LESS 7.00

ANY 16" PIZZA

> WITH 6 ITEMS OR MORE

OFFER NOT GOOD WITH COUPONS OR SPECIALS (32 oz. DRINKS - .50¢)

OPEN 11:00 am till 1:00 am DAILY (2:00 am Fri. & Sat.)

CASH ONLY-PLEASE!!

696-7785

S. COLLEGE STATION (S. OF JERSEY)

Lep Ala

fast star Mc]