The Texas A&M men's tennis team dropped a pair of dual matches this weekend — losing to the 10th-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks on Saturday and the University of Texas on Sunday. Both matches were played in the Omar Smith Tennis Complex.

The Razorbacks, led by Peter Doohan, an Australian serve and volley specialist, defeated the Aggies 8-1. Doohan defeated the Aggie's No. 1 player, Brian Joelson 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 and then, along with teammate Pat Senet, blasted Joelson and Tom Judson 6-4, 7-5 in the No. 1 doubles match. Doohan and Senet are the defending NCAA doubles champions. Texas A&M's only victory Saturday came from Kimmo Alkio and Van Barry in doubles. They beat the Hogs' team of Bobby Banck and Tim Siegel 2-6, 6-4, 7-5. Arkansas went on to beat TCU 9-0 on Sunday. For the Aggies, Sunday's results were only slightly better. The Longhorns visited College Station and managed to defeat the Aggies 5-4. The Aggies and the Longhorns split the singles matches 3-3, despite the absence of an injured Tom Judson. But UT came back to take the Aggies 2-3 in doubles. The best match of the weekend, however, was the singles match between Texas A&M's Alkio and UT's Paul Crozier. Alkio came from behind for the win after being down 4-2 in the third. Sunday's win raises Alkio's season record to 24-4. Barry and Greg Hill also claimed singles' victories for the Aggies. The doubles matches were a different story. The team of Alkio and Barry brought Texas A&M their only win, defeating Mike Brown and Doug Snyder 6-2, 6-1. Texas A&M's season record now stands at 21-8. The Aggies travel to Fort Worth Friday to play TCU, beginning at 1:30.

Records fall at Texas Relays

United Press International
AUSTIN — Cool weather is hanging around much of the country this spring, but in the world of track and field, things are heating up in a hurry. The barrage of record-breaking performances at the Texas Relays demonstrated the countdown to the Olympics has already begun.

going on for 56 years, meet records are usually hard to come by. In most years only one or two records are set. But over the weekend a dozen Texas Relays records were established, two collegiate records were set and pole vaulter Billy Olson came very close to establishing a world mark. In addition to Olson, who cleared 18-8 1/4 and just missed on his first attempt at what would have been a world record of 19-1, Nebraska sprinter Merlene Ottey and the 1,600-meter relay team from Baylor were the stars of the show. Ottey, from Jamaica, overcame a five-yard deficit on the anchor leg of the 400-meter relay to bring her team a win in that event and then helped the Cornhuskers' sprint medley relay team establish a collegiate record of 1:36.05. Most of the country's top

1,600-meter relay squads are in the southwest this year and the Baylor Bears made themselves the early favorite for an NCAA title by running a collegiate record 3:01.98. The team of Bill Hartson, Johnny Thomas, Derwin Graham and Willie Caldwell downed the excellent teams from SMU (3:03.57), TCU (3:04.86) and Texas (3:05.33).

The smartest move you can make.

(next to going to A&M, of course)

In itself, your investment in going to A&M is substantial. Generally, the single largest expense is housing; however, now you, or your parents, can recoup a great deal of housing expense by owning the right piece of real estate.

It becomes obvious that some condominiums are much better investments than others. If you are considering the investment more and more students and their parents are discovering worthwhile, we urge you to consider Wood Brook Condominiums. You'll find our location, features, price and financing exceptional.

And your investment in education at A&M may have greater yields than you expected.
