Indian funding topic of talk

United Press International
AUSTIN — Legislators, state officials and representatives of two Texas Indian tribes scheduled a meeting for Monday to attempt to resolve a dispute over whether the Tigua and Alabama-Coushatta reservations could continue to receive state funding.

A recent opinion by Attorney General Jim Mattox indicated the Alabama-Coushatta reservation in East Texas was no longer considered a reservation under federal law and, therefore, might not be eligible to receive state funds. The opinion also could affect the Tigua reservation in El Paso.

Several state lawmakers, representatives of the governor's office and attorneys for the Indian tribes scheduled a meeting for 8 a.m. Monday to try to iron out the funding dilemma.

"We're looking forward to Monday's meeting because we hope we'll be able to get some things out in the open and on top of the table," said Ray Ramirez, superintendent of the Tigua reservation.

"The Tribal Council of there, and they are on the law is on our side. They will not have to go to court."

Rep. Allen Hightower, represents a district encompassing the Alabama-Coushatta reservation, said the meeting was aimed at clearing a way to restore the eligibility to receive state funds. "Unless this is done, a dora's box will have opened that could result in a process of litigation that could cost the taxpayer. Texas and the landowners southeast Texas millions of acres and possibly many acres of land," said Hightower.

The funding problem posed last week by Comptroller Bob Bullock, who said he would continue the state's practice of making payments to the Texas Indian Council for the state tribes until he clarified his opinion.

Insanity plea used in case

United Press International
DALLAS — A Lawton, Okla., woman charged with kidnapping a three-day old baby from a hospital's maternity ward has entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity before a federal judge.

Dale E. McMahon, a court appointed attorney for Norma Jo Smith, 32, entered the plea Friday before U.S. District Judge Robert Porter. Relatives of Smith said she had a hysterectomy in 1972 and abducted the three-day old child March 24 because she feared her inability to have a child would jeopardize her marriage to a 25-year-old man.

Smith was arrested in Lawton and transferred to Dallas March 31. She remained in custody on $20,000 bail.

Co-defendant Yvonne Williams, daughter of Smith's son, also pleaded insanity Friday to federal kidnapping charges before Porter.

Both women were indicted on the abduction of Harold Shon Patterson.

Authorities charge that son drove Smith, dressed as a nurse, to the hospital where she took the infant from his 15-old mother's arms.

The two women are scheduled for trial in the kidnapping and conspiracy charges Monday.

Youth charged with murders

United Press International
CONROE — A boy, 14, was being held Saturday in the killings of two brothers on the property where they had planned to build homes, a Montgomery County sheriff's detective said.

Chief Det. Steve Graeter said the youth was detained Friday by Walker County sheriff's deputies at around 9 p.m. as he walked along Highway 75.

The bodies of Riley Cantrell, 34, and Denton Cantrell, 35, were found Friday between two shacks by the men's father.

The father explained the two carpenters were living on the property two miles east of Willis.

Graeter said the boy admitted under questioning killing two men.

He said Riley Cantrell had been shot once in the chest a .410-gauge shotgun, and brother received multiple head wounds with a double edged axe.

Graeter said authorities believed the youth argued with Denton Cantrell, assaulted him and then surprised by the tim's brother.

The boy was arraigned in Huntsville and was taken to Conroe Juvenile Detention Facility, where he will undergo magistrate proceedings Monday, Graeter said.

GOP delegates want fire probe

United Press International
MIDLAND — The chairman of the state Republican Party, still smarting from November's crushing gubernatorial defeat, was forced to resign Saturday, and delegates called for a probe of the capitol building fire.

The fire began in the quarters of Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat. Damage was placed in the millions of dollars.

"I don't know if there was anything illegal done there," said Midland Mayor Ernest Angelo, a member of the national party conference.

"But it's a scandal and shame there hasn't been anything more done with it," said Angelo. "I think there was a cover-up."

He said a damage suit filed by Attorney General Jim Mattox against Zentgraf was a sham and a farce. Zentgraf was the maker of the television set that arson investigators may have started the blaze.

Officials said Zentgraf resigned for the good of the party.

Woman murdered in Dallas home

United Press International
UNIVERSITY PARK — Authorities said Saturday they had no clues in the brutal morning stabbing death of a woman and wounding of a companion in a fashionable urban Dallas home
