Doctor looses practice

United Press International
SANTA ANA, Calif. — A doctor who allegedly used his drug-abuse clinic to prescribe pain-killers and tranquilizers to heroin addicts — 17 of whom died — has been ordered to stop practicing medicine.

Superior Court Judge Robert Knox issued a temporary injunction Wednesday preventing Dr. Mark Hopp, 68, from practicing medicine. (A hearing is scheduled April 29 on whether the injunction should be made permanent.)

The order follows an investigation by the State Board of Medical Quality Assurance into Hopp's storefront Huntington Beach clinic.

Officials said the clinic catered to heroin addicts who were given massive quantities of pain killers and tranquilizers without having to see the doctor.

"He wasn't detoxifying them, he was maintaining them on drugs," deputy district attorney Chris Kraflick said.

A slow day in Candyland

While many people were outside enjoying Wednesday afternoon's good weather, Lisa Janosek, a senior management major, waits for a customer so she can have something to do at the Sweets Shop. Janosek is from Corpus Christi and faces temptation daily at the Sweet Shop.

Anti-American rally planned by leftwing Mexican group

United Press International
JUAREZ, Mexico — A rally to denounce the United States has been set for Sunday by a radical leftwing organization called the "Comite de Defensa Popular," Popular Defense Committee.

Juarez police officers call it the most radical organization in the border city.

Members of the CDP are mostly poor residents of squatter colonies which have sprung up in Juarez and other border cities.

Juarez Mayor Jose Reyes Estrada has refused to recognize the CDP as a legitimate political organization and has refused to meet with its leader, school teacher Pedro Matus.

Reyes has denounced Matus publicly as "a leader who collects dues from the poor and offers no positive solutions to problems of poverty."

Several hundred members of the committee held a meeting in the downtown plaza Wednesday, asking the public to join them in what they called a support the national movement of Mexicans and Puerto Ricans of the suppression of the emancipation movement. Yankee imperialism the so-called grand jury
