Republican patriarch Landon has surgery for broken hip

United Press International
TOPEKA — Alf M. Landon, the patriarch of the Republican Party, underwent surgery Monday to repair the broken hip he suffered in a fall at his Southern-style mansion Saturday.

Landon, 95, the 1936 Republican presidential candidate beaten overwhelmingly by Franklin D. Roosevelt, was taken into surgery about 9 a.m. CST, a nursing supervisor said at Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center. She was uncertain how long the surgery would take.

Doctors were to insert two or three pins to help repair the broken bone in his right hip, hospital officials said. Before surgery began, Landon was listed in satisfactory condition after spending a quiet night.

Landon's wife of 54 years, Theo, and his daughter, Sen. Nancy Landon Kassebaum, R-Kan., sat in a hospital waiting room during Landon's surgery, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Landon suffers from leg, an acute nerve in his right leg, Mrs. L said. His weakened leg fell Saturday about 10 p.m. on the floor. Landon was checking the front door couple's home in Topeka, make sure it was locked, the incident occurred.

Texas reports 18 fatalities

Holiday death toll high

United Press International
Officials nationwide cracked down on drunken drivers Monday in an effort to hold down traffic fatalities over the Memorial Day weekend, but the number of deaths was more than 240 with one day left.

A UPI count at 2 a.m. CDT showed at least 244 persons dead in traffic accidents, among them a mother and infant burned to death when their car was rear-ended in an Alabama accident.

Texas had the second highest death count at 18, California led with 21, and Florida and Alabama had 16 each. Colorado reported 13 deaths, Pennsylvania 12; Georgia and Indiana 11;

Ohio 10; New York nine; Michigan eight; Minnesota seven; Illinois, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Kansas six; Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and Arkansas five; and Arizona, New Mexico and South Carolina four.

Massachusetts and Oregon reported three; Connecticut, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wisconsin two; and Hawaii, New Hampshire and Utah one each.

The National Safety Council predicted 350 to 450 people would die on U.S. highways during the weekend, which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ended at midnight Monday. The council said between 17,000 and 22,000 other people might be seriously injured in holiday traffic accidents.

In Alabama, Sally Clay Miller, 37, of Huntsville, and her 5-week-old daughter, Pamieka, died Sunday when the car they were in slowed down to let a pedestrian cross the road and another car traveling at a fast rate of speed hit the Miller car. The slowed car exploded, throwing burning gasoline on the victims, the pedestrian, the second car and another car parked by the roadside.

Two people in Woodland, Calif., died Sunday in a head-on truck-car collision. Police said the driver, 80, of the car was going the wrong way on Interstate 5 when his vehicle sped into an 18-wheel semi-truck crashed in flames on a 40-foot embankment. Drivers died.

Colorado reported 10 traffic fatalities, one of them a 30-year-old man standing on a ramp near his home in Loveland.

A Colorado state police officer blamed the state's most fatalities on the harsh, late winter and the weekend's weather.

"People were coming winter, and they are just staying out," said officer Thurlow. "What hurts is at the ages. Look at them 19, 18, 21, 25, 24. What was in full operation at the time," said state forensicologist Cleland Blake. "The thing accidentally started motor or a wire, possibly body walked in there lit cigarette. We may know the exact cause."

Illegal fireworks factory owner jailed after explosion kills 11

United Press International
BENTON, Tenn. — The owner of an illegal fireworks factory faces 11 counts of involuntary manslaughter for the deaths of his mother, brother, uncle and eight other people in an explosion at his hidden business in the southeast Tennessee mountains.

Dan Lee Webb, 30, surrendered at the Polk County Jail around midnight Saturday—26 hours after a nationwide alert had been issued for him.

He was charged Sunday with 11 counts of involuntary manslaughter and illegally manufacturing and possessing explosives. He was jailed under $300,000 bond pending a June 2 court appearance.

"He looked tired. He had a look of bewilderment and wonderment on his face more than anything else," said James Burris, Polk County chief deputy.

District Attorney Jerry Estes said prosecutors might change the charges to 11 counts of second-degree murder after further investigation. Estes said second-degree murder requires evidence of malice or intent and neither had been found so far.

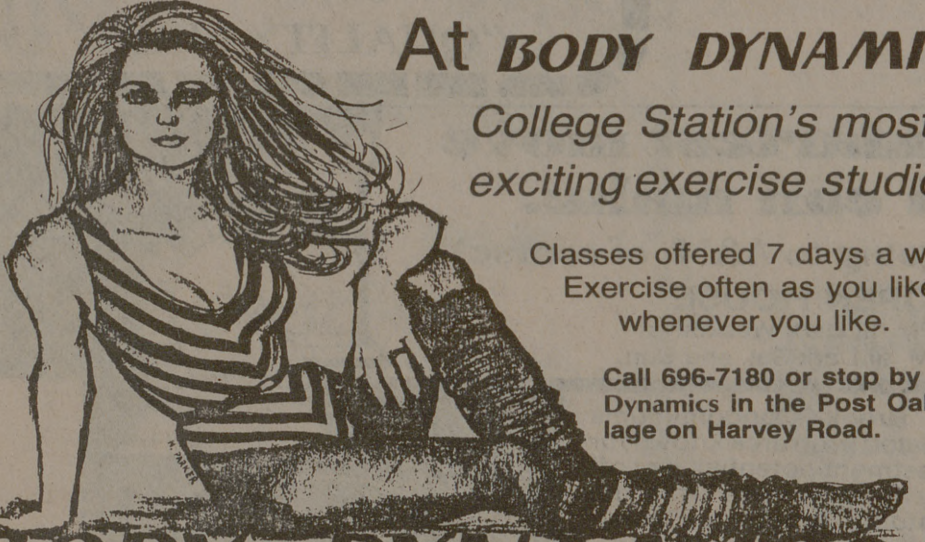

"Murder charges are a distinct possibility," Estes said. "He's responsible for running a hazardous operation where 11 people were killed. We've got 11 deaths, and we've got to determine exactly what his responsibility for the explosion might have been."

Authorities said they may never know what caused the explosion Friday at the heavily guarded factory, tucked into a wooded hillside on Webb's worm farm, which supplied fish bait.

But they said they do know it occurred while workers were
