$501,000 awarded in asbestos damages

United Press International
HOUSTON — A Houston man has been awarded $501,000 in damages in a suit against 11 firms he said were responsible for "making him an old man before his time," his attorney said.

Harold Gideon, 59, sued the 11 firms in 1981, asking for $2.5 million in damages. The jury of three men and three women deliberated less than three hours before finding seven of the firms liable for damages. The companies were found to have manufactured a dangerous product that injured or will injure Gideon, said lawyer Rex Houston of Henderson.

The jury awarded $500,000 to Gideon, who was suffering from asbestosis, and his wife Betty.

Named as defendants in the case were Fibreboard Corp. of New York; Ruberoid Company and GAF Corp. of New York; Eagle-Pitcher Industries Inc. of Pennsylvania; Celotex Corp. of

New York; Keene Corp. and its predecessor Baldwin-Ehret-Hill of New Jersey; Raymark Industries and its predecessor Raybestos-Manhattan Inc. of Charleston, S.C., and Standard Industries Inc. and its predecessor Standard Asbestos Manufacturing Co. of Kansas City, Kan.

Houston said Gideon went to work for Standard Asbestos in the Texas Panhandle when he was 20 years old in 1944. He stayed for 25 years until 1969, when he moved to Houston.

But in 1979 he was diagnosed as having asbestosis. He noticed a shortness of breath, generalized weakness and the inability to climb stairs or walk distances.

Asbestosis occurs when people inhale the tiny asbestos fibers, which get caught in the lungs. Gideon still works for an insulation firm, but is an office worker and estimator. His lawyer said he no longer is exposed to asbestos fibers.

The companies argued during the eight-day trial that Gideon's medical problems be traced to his cigarette smoking. Houston said Gideon quit smoking for 15 years although he started again in 1979.

The jury also awarded Raymark Industries for knowledge of the health risks involved with asbestos not advising employees. The jury ordered the company to pay $1,000 in punitive damages, making a total award of $501,000.

Houston said it could be proven that his client was exposed to products manufactured by those four companies which would have caused his illness.

The other four defendants who were not ordered damages, were Owens Corning Co. of Pennsylvania; Armstrong-World Industries of New York and New York.

Clergymen plan anti-nuclear demonstration

United Press International
EL PASO — Roman Catholic and Protestant clergy will take part in a massive demonstration next Monday against the worldwide buildup of nuclear arms, promoters say.

The Rev. Jaime Madrid, chancellor of the Roman Catholic Diocese of El Paso, said he will deliver the opening prayer at the rally, which is being held at the entrance to Fort Bliss.

A Unitarian minister, the Rev. Forrest Johnson, will also speak at the demonstration, which is expected to attract thousands of people from throughout the El Paso area.

Also included on the program are representatives of the El Paso Religious Society of Friends and Sister Mary Peter Bruce, a Catholic nun who is a member of the Loretto Disarmament-Economic Conversion committee.

One of the promoters of the demonstration, Fran Ernst, said seven organizations will be involved as part of the International Day of Nuclear Disarmament.

"We need to pray for an end to the insanity our country is involved in with the nuclear arms buildup," she said.

Ernst said she hoped

"thousands" would turn out for the demonstration, which will be held at noon in the streets in front of Fort Bliss. Promoters said Fort Bliss was chosen as the site for the demonstration because the sprawling Army facility is the headquarters for the testing of missiles which have the capability of carrying nuclear warheads.

An Army spokesman said officials were aware of the planned demonstration. The spokesman said the Nike Hercules, which is used only by foreign troops, has the capability of carrying a nuclear warhead. The missile is test-fired at Fort Bliss, he said.

Fort Bliss spreads over a million acres of land, with more than 25,000 military personnel and more than 2,000 foreign troops from 19 countries.

Ernst, representing El Pasoans for Non-Nuclear Future, said members of the seven groups "will only take a few minutes to show that there are many who care about building a future of peace and harmony."

The demonstrators will be peaceful and orderly, she said, in keeping with aims to further the cause of nuclear disarmament, demilitarization, non-intervention and world peace.

Yarbrough's trial set for August 1

United Press International
AUSTIN — Trial has been set for Aug. 1 on bond jumping charges for convicted perjurer and former state Supreme Court Justice Donald Yarbrough, who was snatched off his island exile and brought back to Texas last March.

Yarbrough's lawyers, in a hearing in state district court Monday, said they did not anticipate any further delays.

Yarbrough, a Houston lawyer, was elected to the state's highest court in 1976, defeating Appeals Court Judge Charles Barrow after spending $350,000 on his campaign.

Political observers speculated voters had Yarbrough confused with three-time gubernatorial candidate Don Yarbrough and former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarbrough. Shortly thereafter, Yarbrough was convicted on charges he lied to a grand jury investigating allegations he plotted to hire the slaying of a Victoria banker, who in turn was to have testified in a civil suit over Yarbrough's financial dealings.

Yarbrough disappeared for 19 months and fled to the Caribbean island of Grenada, where he reportedly was studying medicine when he was seized and taken to the nearby island of St. Vincent. Authorities there extradited him to Texas March 18.
