Mattox's intervention earns partner $20,000

United Press International
DALLAS — Texas Attorney

General Jim Mattox intervened in the bankruptcy fraud case of a conservative Galveston millionaire at the behest of his former law partner, who collected $20,000 in legal fees, a Dallas newspaper reported Monday. Mattox and his former partner, A. Don Crowder, denied a conflict of interest, but Crowder acknowledged he was not offered the case until Mattox took office.

"I didn't represent anybody before Jim Mattox," Crowder said. "I just said (to Mattox) 'You're going to get some phone calls from people who are going to try to convince you to do something.'
"My understanding was that he (Mattox) wasn't going to get involved," Crowder said.

But Mattox did get involved, according to a copyright story in the Dallas Morning News, and the intervention sparked new life in Shearn Moody Jr.'s appeal of a $5.3 million federal jury judgment against him. Moody, founder and chairman of Alabama-based Empire Life Insurance Co. of America, had been accused of fraud when his firm filed for bankruptcy in 1971.

The jury's judgement was Mattox because helds affirmed by the 5th Circuit was limited. Court of Appeals in New Orleans. But defense lawyers say the action by Mattox virtual-out," said Crowden ly ensures the case will gain a

"I'm sure there are people who think I have an automatic ear to Jim Mattox, and I hold his heart in my pocket," said Crow-der. "But it isn't true. I did weigh the political implications on his behalf and of my getting in-volved, and obviously I decided there weren't any. There was no

Newscaster says victory in Bass pa a defeat for consultant lete tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Anchorwoman Christine Craft, victorious in a sex discrimina-tion and fraud suit against Met-romedia Inc., says a double standard applied to television jour-nalists is "hogwash."

The industry that calls Barbara Walters, 51, "a grande dame" and Dan Rather, 52, "a brash young man" also interprets age lines and wrinkles as signs of experience in men, but in women, it means they are "shopworn," Craft said. Craft said her victory Mon-day was a big defeat for the television news consultants who are hired to help stations improve their image and ratings. "The question it raises about the consultant business is the main thing," said Craft, who was removed from the anchor desk at the Metromedia-owned KMBC-TV because of a re-pray than I." Craft called the jury's recommendation that Judge Joseph E. Stevens Jr. find Metromedia guilty of sex discrimination a victory for civil rights, women's rights and journalism. The judge was expected to issue his final opinion on that charge no sooner than Aug. 19. "The (charge) I thought ab-
