Postal clerk accused of theft

United Press International
GALVESTON — A postal clerk who allegedly stole $31,000 in food stamps from a Galveston post office and plotted with another man to sell them on the black market has been indicted, court records indicated.

A grand jury Monday indicted Jose Luis Aguirre, 30, and Albert Brown Jr., 50, and charged them with trying to sell government food stamps that were allegedly stolen.

The indictment said Aguirre stole the food stamps in May 1982 attempted with the help of Brown, an unemployed longshoreman, to sell $20,000 worth of the stamps to a third party in August 1983.
