

House passes alien rider

WASHINGTON — The House Tuesday approved an amendment that would authorize up to $500 in federal funds to educate each illegal alien schoolchild enrolled in public schools.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright and Rep. Kika de la Garza, both D-Texas, offered the amendment to a bill to reauthorize several programs to aid the physically and mentally handicapped.

The amendment, which passed on a voice vote, came as the House restored $1.6 billion in 1981 social program and education cuts by voting to extend and add funds for the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

They said the funding would help lessen the impact of a recent Supreme Court ruling mandating free education for children of illegal aliens, especially in states such as New York, Florida, California and Ohio that have "considerable numbers" of illegal alien school-children.

Opponents said the issue should be dealt with under current legislation or under immigration reform legislation pending before Congress.

"This is a temporary anesthetic that misdirects our attention from a time bomb," said Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Ill.

The measure supported by Gov. Mark White and congressmen from several states provided only one-fifth of the financial burden of educating the children of illegal aliens, supporters said.

"Many of the school districts that have been impacted are the poorest of the poor and this is one way to assist them," de la Garza said.

Soviet defector to be housed in Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — An internationally known Soviet pianist, who disappeared Sept. 3 while on a European tour, plans to defect to the United States, said a Fort Worth family which plans to sponsor him.

He (Alexander Toradze) said he basically had no choice because it was impossible for him to continue to work or conduct his professional and artistic life "under Soviet controls," said Mary Byrne, whose family befriended Toradze during his U.S. visits.

She said Toradze, 31, who won the silver medal in the 1977 Van Cliburn competition in Fort Worth, was traveling from Italy to Spain with the Soviet broadcasting system orchestra when he disappeared.

The Soviet Embassy in Madrid has refused comment on Toradze's disappearance, but Mrs. Byrne said Toradze had requested a permanent refugee visa to the United States, and her family had agreed to host him during the settlement period.

During his visits to the United States, "We became close friends and he became almost a part of our family," she said. "He is very people oriented, and at the same time, when he works, he works with tremendous seriousness."

In 1978 and 1979, Toradze toured the United States with the Moscow Philharmonic Orchestra and was widely acclaimed as a brilliant young Soviet star, she said.

Plus extras like cole slaw, potato salad, big french fries, and jalapeño peppers. That's the terrific kind of meal you'll find at Tinsley's Chicken 'n Rolls. Ask anybody if it isn't so.
