

Lucas still faces six murder charges

United Press International
HENRIETTA — Henry Lee Lucas, who has been sentenced to 75 years for one of the more than 150 murders he claims to have committed across the country, still faces charges in six other murders.

Lucas pleaded guilty to the stabbing death of 80-year-old Kate Rich of Ringgold. Portions of her body were found in a woodburning stove in Lucas' shack in Stoneburg, Texas.

Lucas, 47, had been scheduled to go on trial in the case

Oct. 18 in Henrietta, 20 miles southeast of Wichita Falls.

District Judge Frank Douthitt accepted Lucas' plea at a pre-trial hearing Friday. In setting the sentence at 75 years, Douthitt said Lucas would have no possibility for parole for 20 years.

Lucas still faces trial Oct. 17 in Georgetown in the death of an unidentified woman in her 20s found in a ditch off Interstate 35 near Georgetown on Oct. 31, 1979. He is charged in four other deaths in Texas and one in Louisiana.

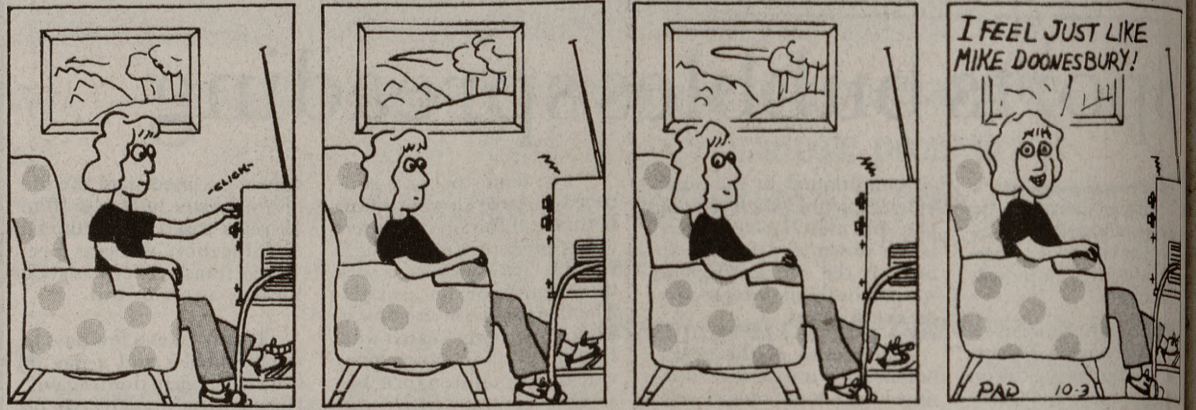

After Lucas was released from prison in Michigan in 1975 — where he had also spent several years in a mental hospital for the murder of his mother — Lucas told authorities he drifted across the country. He claimed to have killed more than 150 people in at least 17 states since his release.

Lawmen from at least 28 law enforcement agencies plan to attend a conference Oct. 12-14 in Monroe, La., in an effort to trace Lucas' alleged homicidal trek through several states.

The conference was arranged after Lucas and his alleged accomplice, Ottis Elwood Toole, admitted last week abducting and killing a Northeast Louisiana University coed in 1981.

Toole, 36, is serving a Florida prison term for second-degree arson and has been indicted for first-degree murder in Jacksonville, Fla. Lucas and Toole have been identified as suspects in at least eight Florida killings.

Texas employees union denounces 'miserly' raise

United Press International
AUSTIN — Executives of the Texas State Employees Union Saturday denounced a "miserly" pay raise which they say has turned payday into "Black Friday."

The union executives, affiliated with the CWA-AFL-CIO, said Friday's paychecks reflected a raise approved by the Texas Legislature. But they said for many state employees the raise is a "cruel joke" because it has been swallowed up by skyrocketing insurance premiums.

"It (the raise) will be a little help, but when you're talking about a 48 percent increase in insurance premiums as we have seen, and a 4 percent raise, all your raise and then some goes to paying that insurance premium," executive committee member Joe Haney said.

He said it will take another raise and a complete revamping of insurance for state employees to benefit.

Haney, who works for the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, said an Oct. 5 meeting with Gov. Mark White has been scheduled to urge him to include matter of state employees' agenda of any future legislative session.

Haney showed a sampling Friday's paycheck stubs that reflected anywhere from less than a dollar to as much as $384 this week because of higher insurance premiums.

THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Starring Maria Muldaur, October 23, 1983

Winner of three Tony Awards, this band of fierce yet totally fallible swashbucklers is pursued by their former apprentice, who is honor bound to exterminate them. They may yet be saved by their pursuer's starry-eyed love for the fetching Mabel, played by pop recording star Maria Muldaur. A giddy, rollicking adaptation of the original Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

"If you go to the theatre only once this year, this is the show!" —Newsweek.

CRIMES OF THE HEART

February 2, 1984

This Pulitzer Prize winning tragi-comedy takes us to an evening with the McGrath sisters: Babe, out on bail from shooting her husband; Meg, the struggling singer on leave from a psycho ward; and Lenny, coming to grips with life as an old maid. A wonder of Southern Gothic humor.

"A crime for anyone interested in the theatre not to see this play." —New York Post.

BLUES IN THE NIGHT

Starring Della Reese, March 27, 1984

A sultry, sizzling show about three women in 1938 hotel rooms crying the blues. Defiant, nostalgic memories of women who can neither live with men nor without them. Great blues and jazz.

"One of the best musical scores to hit Broadway in many a year." —Newark Star Ledger.

PUMP BOYS AND DINETTES

April 16, 1984

Take Highway 57 from Smyrna towards Frog Level. Watch close and you'll find a gas station right across from the Double Cupp Diner, run by them Cupp sisters, Prudie and Rhetta. Roll into the station and them "Pump Boys" — Jim Jackson, Eddie and L.M. — will fall all over you, (if you're buying the beer, of course). Or just pull off on the side and get your ears filled with high octane down-home country rockabilly, bluegrass, gospel and blues.

"As refreshing as an ice-cold beer after a bowl of five alarm chili." —New York Times.
