UT game seats available

by Michael Piwonka

Battalion Reporter
An extra 2,520 seats will be available at Kyle Field for the Texas A&M-University of Texas football game Nov. 26. Tickets for the temporary seats are on sale now. Student tickets go on sale today.

Folding chairs will be placed on the track and movable bleachers will be placed behind the end zone in anticipation of a sell-out crowd.

Jim Kotch, athletic ticket manager, says 1,920 temporary ground-level chairs will be placed on the track. The bleachers will create an additional 600 seats. The $12 tickets can be purchased at the entrance to G. Rollie White Coliseum.

Kotch said the tickets have been selling well. Even the 3,000 tickets returned from the 12,000 batch that was sent to UT sold out quickly, he said. The only tickets left are student tickets. People who buy a ticket for the temporary seating area must sign a note acknowledging that they were advised of the poor viewing location of the seats. Kotch said the people won't be able to demand a refund because they couldn't see well.

The chairs will be set up on both sides of the areas reserved for the football teams.

Kotch said there will be other changes for the UT game. The changes are as follows:

- Student tickets are available on a new schedule. Seniors and graduates pick up their tickets today, juniors Friday, sophomores Monday and freshmen Tuesday. Ticket windows will be open at the coliseum from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. on those days.

- More emphasis will be placed on catching people who use stolen or lost ticket books. Kotch said the ticket office has a list of the numbers of the missing ticket books and will check the students' ticket books as they give out tickets. If a missing book is found, it will be confiscated and returned to the owner, he said.

Covers 10,000 meters

Roadrace held Saturday

by Kelly Miller

Battalion Reporter
It's time for all runners to get out their running shoes and get ready for the fourth annual Miller Lite 10,000 Meter Roadrace Saturday morning. The 6.2 mile race is co-sponsored by the Texas A&M Roadrunners Club and Brazos Beverages. It will begin at 8:30 at the Brazos Center in Bryan. Preregistration is underway in the main lobby of the Memorial Student Center. Entry cost is $6 per person. Registration also will be from 7 to 8:15 a.m. Saturday at the Brazos Center for $8 per person. A portion of the proceeds from the entry fees will be given to United Way.

T-shirts will be given to the first 375 applicants. Everyone is welcome to enter.

Mark Eddy, president of the Roadrunners Club, said the race will have different divisions for competition.

"Trophies will be given to the overall male and female winners," Eddy said. "The top five male and female runners in the 19 and under age group and the 20-29 age group will be given trophies, and the top three runners in the 30-39 age group and the 40 and over age group will be awarded trophies as well."

Water and Gatorade will be provided for the runners and Texas A&M Emergency Care Team will be at the race.

The 10,000 meter run is one of four races sponsored each year by the 50-member club.

Eddy said the club members don't usually participate in the events they sponsor, but the club does compete in three out-of-town races each semester.

"This semester we've already been to Huntsville," he said, "and we're going to run in the Dallas White Rock Marathon on Dec. 4."

The club's student and faculty members pay a fee of $10 per year or $6 per semester to cover the costs of entry fees and transportation to the out-of-town races.

Drama to be tonight

"Amadeus," the hit Broadway play of three years ago, will be presented tonight in Rudder Auditorium at 8 p.m. The award-winning play, presented by the National Touring Company, is the third of eight programs in the Opera and Performance Arts Society's 11th season.

"Amadeus" examines the conflicts between the two 18th-century composers, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Antonio Salieri. Although Salieri was popular among the people of the time, he longed for Mozart's genius — his "gift from God."

The characterizations of the two main roles make this play unique. Salieri, played by Philip Pleasants, is the generous man of the court, while Mozart is research, foul-mouthed and cruel. Salieri's jealousy moves him to destroy Mozart, played by Edward Hodson. It is uncertain whether he actually was responsible for Mozart's death, as he once confessed.

"Amadeus" won five Tony Awards, including the award for Best Play. It also was a hit in England at the National Theater.
