

Dolphin players say Oilers not as bad as people say

United Press International
MIAMI — Next Sunday's matchup between the Miami Dolphins and the lowly Houston Oilers would seem to be a natural for an upset and the Dolphin players know it.

"There's no such thing as a bad ball club in the NFL," said Miami guard Bob Kuechenberg in the aftermath of Monday night's 38-14 thrashing of the Cincinnati Bengals.

"If you let down a little bit, you are going to get beat. If you are not on top of your game, you are going to get your ears bent back."

To a man, Kuechenberg's Dolphin teammates agreed.

"We are not looking past Houston," said receiver Nat Moore. "We want to get the homefield advantage in the playoffs — that is very important to us."

Dolphin Coach Don Shula said at his weekly news conference Tuesday that he expects top effort from the Oilers despite their 1-12 record — the worst in the NFL.

"I'm sure they're going to want to salvage everything they can out of the season and build for the future," Shula said.

Shula did not comment on reports in The Miami Herald Tuesday that the contract he signed with Dolphin owner Joe Robbie this week amounted to $3 million through 1986, including an upward adjustment for this year.

Robbie said he would not disclose the terms of the contract but said it was generous.

"I don't begrudge what Don now makes but I will say he is better set for life than I am," Robbie said.

Shula said the Dolphins came out of Monday night's victory free of injuries, except for a broken rib suffered by rookie receiver-punt returner Mark Clayton, who will be out for at least two weeks.

"Fulton Walker will take over as the punt returner but now we have to find someone to back him up," Shula said. He said it would either be Mark Duper, Moore or Durriel Harris, all wide receivers.

Walker had been the Dolphins' kickoff returner for two years, but has insisted he is better at returning punts.

The Bengals have routed the Oilers twice in the last month and don't expect the Dolphins to have much trouble with Houston.

"We've played all the contenders and Miami is certainly the best," said Cincinnati wide receiver Cris Collinsworth. "I expect them to go all the way."

"They have a great football team. They flat out beat us," said Bengal Coach Forrest Gregg. "The Dolphins have a good running game, a good attack. What makes it work is they keep you guessing with the threat of a long ball."

Gamblers sign Alborn

United Press International
HOUSTON — Former Rice coach Ray Alborn has been hired by the USFL's Houston Gamblers and has signed a two-year contract as the team's defensive line coach, officials said Tuesday.

No financial details of the pact have been disclosed and the official announcement of Alborn's hiring is not expected until today. Alborn, 45, resigned last month after six seasons at Rice. The team went 1-10 last season.

Alborn said he was impressed with the Gamblers organization and that owner Jerry Argovitz agreed he would be released from his contract if he decided to take a head-coaching job somewhere.

Slings sign QB
 The San Antonio Gunslingers Tuesday signed quarterback Brad Wright, a 1980 graduate of the University of New Mexico, who was cut earlier this year by the Detroit Lions.

Wright, 24, was drafted in the fourth round in 1980 the Miami Dolphins traded the next year to Dallas Cowboys.

Roger Gill, general manager of the USFL's Gunslings announced the signing of Wright, who was cut from the Lions before the start of the 1983 season.

At New Mexico, Wright a school record for passing yardage in a single game, throwing for 452 yards in a 1978 game against Tech University.

Huskies Three Cornhusker players named to football writers' all-America team

United Press International
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Unbeaten Nebraska placed three players on the 40th all-America team announced Tuesday by the Football Writers Association of America.

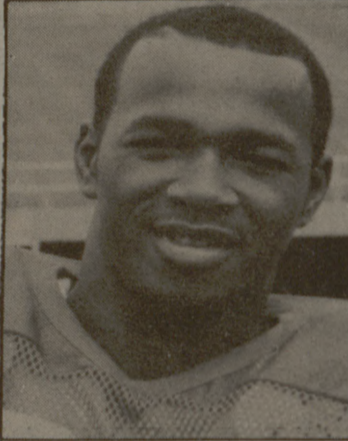

Representing the top-ranked Cornhuskers were Heisman Trophy favorite Mike Rozier, flanker Irving Fryar and offensive guard Dean Steinhukler.

Only two other schools — Texas and Brigham Young — placed more than one player on the team.

Rozier was a repeater from the association's 1982 team, along with tight end Gordon Hudson of Brigham Young and defensive tackle Rick Bryan of Oklahoma.

The team, by geographic regions:

East — Bill Fralic, Pittsburgh, offensive lineman; Napoleon McCallum, Navy, running back.

Atlantic Coast — Terry Long, East Carolina, offensive lineman; William Perry, Clemson, defensive lineman.

South — Terry Hoage, Georgia, defensive back; Bo Auburn, running back; White, Tennessee, defensive lineman.

Southwest — Russell Gray, SMU, defensive back; Jeff Leiding, Texas, defensive lineman.

Midlands — Rick Gray, Oklahoma, defensive back; Irving Fryar, Nebraska, running back; Mike Rozier, Nebraska, running back; Dean Steinhukler, Nebraska, offensive lineman.

Midwest — Stefan Phries, Michigan, offensive man; Don Thorp, Illinois, defensive lineman.

Rockies — Gordon Gray, BYU, tight end; Steve Gray, BYU, quarterback; Jack Wyoming, punter.

OSU's Anderson to be '100 percent' for Baylor

United Press International
HOUSTON — Oklahoma State football coach Jimmy Johnson Tuesday said 1982 all-America tailback Ernest Anderson will be rid of injuries and "100 percent" to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 31.

Johnson, in town to promote the New Year's Eve night game, said the Cowboys would need Anderson's running to stay up with the offensive-minded Baylor Bears in a wide-open game.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff greeted Johnson's news with a frown.

"Their substitute running back made more than 200 yards against what I think is a very good defense, Texas A&M. And now to learn that Ernest Anderson will be healthy for us, it goes along with most of things that have happened this year. Everybody gets well for Baylor," Teaff said.

The Bears and Aggies tied earlier this year 13-13 in Waco.

For the Cowboys, 7-4, junior Shawn Jones stepped in for Anderson and rushed for 952 yards. But he did not excite like Anderson, who gained 1,877 yards in 1982 and starting this past season touted as a Heisman Trophy candidate. He also began it with a groin muscle pull.

Anderson aggravated the injury in the Cowboys' first game, then sat idle for six weeks. Johnson said failing to play in the Orange Bowl, the Cowboys wanted to travel to the Bluebonnet so they could reap the profits in the Houston area.

"We've got 34 Texas fans in the squad," said Johnson, at Port Arthur, Texas. "So it's a homecoming for them. Authority is a bit in this area. And so does Teaff. Baylor team was 7-3-1 and a scare into No. 2 ranked with a second-half explosion.

The Cowboys played Nebraska a tough game 14-10.

Johnson said the OSU tailback would "put as much standing skill people on the field as any game over the years."

son said Anderson "wasn't nill — from 194 pounds — and was not strong when he came back."

The break between the boys last game Nov. 19 Bluebonnet should allow Anderson to return to full coach said.

"He's the type of back effective because of his size. Not working for a month half robbed him of his strength. With this time to prepare be 100 percent," Johnson said.

Johnson left open the ability Anderson could be a tailback.

"Shawn Jones will step in pending on Anderson's return," he said.

Sooner Or Later You'll Get Responsibility Like This. In The Navy It's Sooner.

You're maneuvering 445 feet of guided missile frigate through the navigational hazards and non-stop traffic of one of the world's busiest ports. But you'll dock safely. Because you know your equipment. You know your men. And even when the responsibility weighs in at 3,600 tons... you're ready.

After four years of college, you're ready for more responsibility than most civilian jobs offer. Navy officers get the kind of job and responsibility they want, and they get it sooner.

Navy officers are part of the management team after 16 weeks. Instead of boot camp, officer candidates receive four months of leadership training. It's professional schooling designed to sharpen their technical and management skills.

Then, in their first assignment, Navy officers get management experience that could take years in private industry. And they earn the decision-making authority it takes to make that responsibility pay off.

As their management abilities grow, Navy officers can take advantage of advanced education and training in fields as varied as operations management, electronics, and systems analysis. In graduate school it would cost you thousands; in the Navy we pay you.

And the Navy pays well. The starting salary is $17,000 (more than most companies pay). And that's on top of a comprehensive benefits program that can include special duty pay. After four years, with regular promotions and pay increases, the salary is up to as much as $31,000.

If you qualify to be an officer in the Navy, chances are you have what it takes to succeed. The Navy just makes it happen faster.
