

Top teams roll in SWC action

United Press International
 Dennis Nutt made things a little tougher than Arkansas would have cared for, but the Razorbacks are still just where they figure to be for quite some time in the Southwest Conference race — unbeaten.
 Even though they were on the road last Saturday, the nation's 19th ranked team was not expected to have any problems. Yet Arkansas went into the final minute of their contest with things still in doubt.
 Arkansas ran afoul of Nutt, the TCU sharpshooter who likes to take out a grudge on the Razorbacks since he is from Little Rock and was never offered a scholarship by his home-state school.
 But the favorite survived with Arkansas now owning a 4-0 record within the league. The Razorbacks do not play the first of their two scheduled games with Houston until Feb. 25.

 Nutt scored 32 points against Arkansas in what eventually became a 70-62 Razorbacks' triumph in Fort Worth, the third highest point total produced against the Hogs since Eddie Sutton began coaching the team in the 1975-76 season.
 Elsewhere Saturday, the SMU Mustangs shook off the disappointment of one-point losses to both Houston and Arkansas to clobber Baylor, 89-70, and the Rice Owls further added to the woes of the Texas Longhorns, 63-49.
 It was the second straight win for Rice, which had nipped TCU at the buzzer in Fort Worth earlier in the week.

Mavericks stampede stomp fading Denver

United Press International
 DALLAS — A streak of 14 straight points fueled by guard Brad Davis early in the second half Sunday broke open the game and sent the Dallas Mavericks cruising to their third straight victory, a 126-107 decision over the Denver Nuggets.
 It was the sixth win in eight games for the Mavericks, who handed the Nuggets their ninth consecutive road loss.
 The Mavericks placed six players in double figures and mauled Denver on the backboards, 60-35.
 Mark Aguirre paced Dallas with 25 while Rolando Blackman added 21, Davis and Pat Cummings 16 each, Dale Ellis 15 and Kurt Nimphius 10. Aguirre scored 23 of his points in the first half to help the Mavericks start the streak and after 74-58 intermission lead.

 Then, after Denver had rowed its deficit to 12 early in the third quarter, the Mavericks started their streak which the contest away.
 Davis hit two straight shots to start the streak and after Cummings made a jumper and another bucket, Aguirre, Blackman and Bill Garnett added points to the Dallas run. Kiki Vandeweghe finally managed a basket for the gets.
 Dallas twice built its lead points and only a fourth-quarter surge keyed by Howard Carter allowed the Nuggets to close the final margin.
 Vandeweghe scored 15 lead Denver while Alex English had 23 and Carter 18.

 But Olajuwon enabled Slama Jama to show its stuff several blocked shots, and Cougars pulled in front with 30-27 lead at the end of the half.
 Houston managed to get an 11-point lead early in second half, the largest lead would have the whole game.
 With about 9:00 left, Houston coach Guy Lewis put "Smothers Brothers" — the offensive trio of Derek Giles, Dickens and Renaldo Thomas — to work. But A&M had the pressure well with excellent ball handling and teamwork.
 After Lewis took the Aggie Brothers out with 7:12 left, the score 53-44, the Aggies switched to a zone defense, slowed the Cougar offense. Lowmy and Williams kept terrorizing the court with their own shots and Jimmie Gilbert. The Doug Lee soon added another Aggie cause with five straight points to cut the Cougs' lead to 59-55 with only 3:15 left in game.
 But the Cougars capitalized on A&M's fouls, hitting several key free throws in the last minutes.

COOGS
 They're cool.
 Guard Reid Gettys summed up the Cougar cool. "I know when it comes down to this, we're going to pull it out," he said.
 The Cougars strutted against hostile G. Rollie White College with everything to lose and much to gain. Young said that ton is used to that.
 "I expect great things from us," Young said. "Other intensity is always high when they play us. We didn't fall pieces."
 It helps when you have a foot tall bottle of glue. Akeem Olajuwon held the pieces together.
 "The Dream" had a triple double — double figures in three categories. He scored 23 points, grabbed 13 rebounds and blocked 10 shots.
 But to the Aggies credit, it didn't fall to pieces either. Other than Olujawon, guard Al Franklin was the only Cougar to score in double figures with 10 points.
 The Aggies' glue was intense and all-out desire.
 Young said, "Their intensity was very high. They came out with everything they had."
 That is one thing A&M coach Shelby Metcalf said he can respect from his team.
 "I knew we were going to put this kind of effort, but I don't know about the results," Metcalf said. "They don't always hand-in-hand."
