of Arkansas. Lisa Langston, the team's leading scorer this season, was hit above the left eye by a swinging elbow as she tipped off.

Langston spent the opening minutes of the game on the sidelines wearing a bag of ice over her eye.

The Aggies were slowed by Langston's absence and never recovered, losing 69-63. They are now 1-3 in conference play and 8-6 on the season.

Even though Langston missed just the first few minutes of the game she was both physically and mentally shaken from the blow to her head. Langston, a 48 percent shooter this season from the field, hit just percent of 12 shots from the field.

After the game Langston complained that her vision's still a bit fuzzy and her timing was out of sync.

"I just couldn't get on track," she said. "I was trying to rush everything to make up for the time I lost when I was out."

Despite shooting only 39.3 percent from the floor, the Aggies managed to stay within 1 point in the first half, 30-29.

Arkansas grabbed the tip to start the second half, but Mary Ann Swearngin stole the ball and was fouled as she drove to the basket. Swearngin, who had four steals, hit one of the two shots and the game was tied at 30.

Shortly thereafter, Swearngin went for a steal and was charged with her fourth foul. Coach Cherri Rapp took her out of the game and later said that taking Swearngin out hurt the Aggies' defense.

"When Mary Ann is in the game, their ballhandler can't rest," Rapp said. "She is so fast the referees sometimes make calls on her when she does foul. But, we have no reason to complain. I'm sure we got away with some that didn't get called."

The lead continued to flip-flop until Arkansas came down the court with a 58-54 lead. For 29 seconds the Aggies protected the basket, but just as the 30-second clock was about to expire, Tracy Webb swished a 15-footer for a 60-54 Arkansas lead.

The closest the Aggies could get was 66-63.

Aggie center Michell Tatum led the team with 18 points and 8 rebounds.

Arkansas, 11-4 for the season and 3-1 in SWC play, was led by center Amanda Holley who had 20 points.

Fifth-ranked Houston was beaten by No. 3 Kentucky, 74-67, Sunday because the Cougars' tower of power, 7-foot Akeem "The Dream" Olajuwon, spent much of the game on the bench in foul trouble.

Kenny Walker scored 20 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and 6-11 Melvin Turpin had 19 points and pulled down 11 rebounds to spark the Wildcats to victory at Rupp Arena. Sam Bowie, the Wildcats' 7-foot forward, grabbed 18 rebounds.

Houston's fate was sealed when Olajuwon got his fourth foul with 15:24 remaining in the game. He went on to foul out at the 6:14 mark after collecting 14 points and 12 rebounds. Ten of Olajuwon's points were made in the first half.

"We don't have as many big horses to put in there as they do," Houston Coach Guy Lewis said. "If you have two 7-footers to put in there against one 7-footer the intimidation ought to work out to about two to one."

Kentucky led 35-31 at intermission after being behind most of the first half. The Wildcats, 14-2, picked up the lead for the first time in the game, 28-27, on a free throw by James Blackmon with 3:01 left in the half.

Alvin Franklin led Houston with 25 points, but the only player other than Franklin or Olajuwon in double figures for the Cougars, 16-3, was Michael Young with 11.

"As I said earlier, I thought that it would be the kind of a game that we needed, and it turned out to be just that," said Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall. "It was a good game to get out and run. There was a lot of action and a lot of great plays. I think our players enjoyed the game. To come back like we did took a lot of poise. I thought we played with tremendous aggressiveness. We really came through the way a good team should.

"Houston is a fine ballclub that likes to play much the same style that we do, and it made for a real good game. It was a good and it did a lot of good for us. Even with the turnovers and missed free throws, we still played a good game."

In another game Sunday, Louisville upset 11th-ranked UCLA, 86-78.

At Louisville, Ky., Charles Jones poured in career-high 27 points and grabbed a game-high 15 rebounds to spark the Cardinals' victory.

Milt Wagner scored 18 points. Billy Thompson had 17 as the Cardinals improved to 11-4 overall and 4-0 in Metro Conference play. The contest was counted as a designated conference game for Louisville since the Cardinals do not play South Carolina.

We were especially happy to win, since this game counted as a conference game for us. It can do the same in our other designated conference games. DePaul I'll be tickled."

In games Saturday involving the top 10 teams, No. 1 North Carolina defeated Virginia 66-66; No. 4 Texas-El Paso downed Wyoming 54-46; No. 6 Georgetown walloped No. 16 St. John's 83-61; No. 7 Maryland topped Old Dominion 69-58; No. 8 Nevada-Las Vegas edged No. 9 Fresno State 64-62; No. 9 Illinois whipped No. 14 Purdue 75-52 and No. 10 Oregon State beat Washington 72-58.
