It's Hogs 55, Raiders 49

United Press International
LUBBOCK — Alvin Robertson and Ricky Norton contributed 11 points a piece as the 14th ranked Arkansas Razorbacks took a 55-49 victory over Texas Tech Thursday night.

Arkansas improved its record to 22-4 overall and 13-1 in the Southwest Conference. The Red Raiders dropped to 14-10 overall and 8-5 in the conference.

The Razorbacks opened the scoring and kept the Red Raiders from ever taking the lead. Bubba Jennings tied the score at 12-12 with his only basket of the first half — the closest Tech ever came to controlling the game. Jennings finished the night with 10 points.

Center Joe Kleine quickly pulled Arkansas out of the tie with a 6-foot field goal, then completed two free throws.

Arkansas led 28-19 at the half, but Jennings led a Tech scoring drive early in the period adding 4 points. Dwight Phillips added a field goal to bring the Red Raiders to within 3 points, 36-33.

The Razorbacks controlled the rest of the game, keeping the Raiders at least 5 points behind.

Ags play Horns Saturday

Kenny Brown scores against Texas earlier this season. Brown scored 16 in that game. The Texas A&M basketball team will take on the University of Texas Saturday at 7 p.m. in Austin. The Aggies beat Texas 68-52 earlier this season. Texas' win over Baylor earlier this week guaranteed the Longhorns will not repeat as the Southwest Conferences' worst team.

Lewis jumps long, high without drugs

United Press International
NEW YORK — A determined Carl Lewis, looking to show the world he doesn't need the aid of drugs to get high or heads the long jump field as the 1984 indoor track and field season reaches its climax with the U.S. National Championships.

The event is the final meet in the $150,000 Grand Prix series sponsored by Mobil. Lewis originally planned to skip this meet as it did not fit his rigid Olympic training schedule. But the world indoor record-holder in the long jump (28 feet 10 1/4 inches) decided to have something to prove.

Lewis was the subject of published reports in an Oslo, Norway newspaper last August that he tested positive for testosterone, a drug banned by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, at the World Track and Field Championships in Helsinki where he won three gold medals.

The IAAF denied the story, but after the drug scandal at the two American Games two weeks later embarrassed American officials, it was decided to have mandatory testing at all national championship meets.

Thus, Lewis thinks his participation in the indoor meet will erase any doubts about his ability.

"I hope this will put those stories to rest," Lewis said.

"Early in the indoor season I indicated I might not participate in the Indoor Championships. My indoor schedule, with the Olympics paramount, was to be a limited one. Inasmuch as I did not see myself being a factor in the Grand Prix overall competition, I thought perhaps

I would forego the National Championships this one year.

The world indoor record-holder in the long jump (28 feet 10 1/4 inches) decided he had something to prove.

"However, my condition and preparation are excellent, so I have decided to participate. After all, I won both the long jump and the 60-yard dash last year, and the long jump in 1982."

When Lewis won last year's 60, edging Ron Brown, he became only the second athlete in the Championships' history to double in the 60 and the long jump; only Barney Ewell, who pulled it off in 1945, had ever done so before.

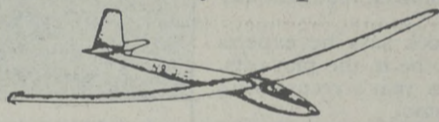

But this year there is good reason for Lewis not to attempt a double. For one thing, his supremacy in the sprints is in doubt after a poor season. Brown beat him in San Diego last week, and he lost to someone named Paul Narracott in Japan in January.

"The key to beating Lewis is to get out in front of him early and stay there," says Brown, the 1983 Grand Prix champion in the 60. Emmitt King, who is having an excellent season, is also entered in the 60 and wishes Lewis were entered in the event.

"If I train hard enough I can beat Carl Lewis," King says flatly. "I would have liked to have had Carl Lewis in the race. I'm running well. I'm stronger at the end but I have to work on my start."

E-Systems continues the tradition of the world's great problem solvers.

Recognized with Archimedes and Newton as one of the three greatest mathematicians, Karl Gauss also pioneered math in astronomy, gravitation, electricity and magnetism.

E-Systems engineers are continuing in his footsteps today. They are pioneering technology and solving some of the world's toughest problems in electronic transmission and signal-reception in an interference and noise background using basic Gaussian concepts.

E-Systems "pioneering" in communications, data, antenna, intelligence and reconnaissance projects results in systems that are often the first-of-a-kind in the world.
