power lines throughout the Panhandle this week, had almost melted away Tuesday as temperatures warmed.

The Department of Public Safety reported highways in Lubbock and Amarillo were normal.
 Afternoon readings Tuesday remained mostly in the 30s and 40s, but sunshine was reported statewide. Winds were a relatively calm 10 to 25 mph and a warming trend was forecast for Wednesday.

During the height of the storm Sunday night, wind gusts of 60 mph combined with the weight of wet snow and ice, snapped power lines across the region.
