Horns' hopes higher

United Press International
AUSTIN — Forward Mike Wacker, knocked out of Texas' starting lineup by a devastating knee injury two years ago, says he hopes to return to the Longhorn basketball team next year.

"It's not hurting as much, and it's getting bigger and stronger," the 6-foot-9, 220-pound Wacker said of his left knee.

Wacker said Dr. Pat Evans, the Dallas Cowboys' orthopedic surgeon who performed the second operation on his knee a year ago, agrees the knee has improved.

Wacker was averaging more than 16 points and nearly 10 rebounds a game when he was injured during a January 1982 Southwest Conference game against Baylor in Waco.

"This is the first time since I've been here that I thought he had a chance (to return)," Coach Bob Weltlich said. "I hope for Mike's sake more than for our sake that he can play."

No excuses this year

Meyer sets strategy

United Press International
CHICAGO — For the first time in four years at this time, DePaul is busy preparing strategy rather than excuses.

The fourth-ranked Blue Demons are mapping out their plans for Friday night's game against Wake Forest in one of the two Midwest Regional semifinal games in St. Louis.

In the other Midwest matchup, fifth-ranked Houston takes on Metro Conference co-champion Memphis State. The winner of the Houston-Memphis State game and the and the winner of the DePaul-Wake Forest game will play Sunday afternoon with the winner advancing to the Final Four in Seattle.

Coach Ray Meyer's club had lost three straight NCAA tournament games before ripping Illinois State Sunday. Meyer, looking for his first NCAA championship in his 42nd and last year of coaching at DePaul, said he couldn't wait to start planning for the game with the Deacons.

"We went into the hotel room Sunday night and started talking about Wake Forest," Meyer said.

DePaul, the top seed in the Midwest, will take a 27-2 record into the game with the Atlantic Coast Conference club. Wake Forest earned a trip to St. Louis by eliminating Big Eight Conference tourney champ Kansas 69-59. The Deacons top threat is Anthony Teachey, who grabbed 15 rebounds in the second round victory at Lincoln, Neb.

"I don't think Teachey gets the credit he deserves," Wake Forest Coach Carl Taylor said. "He may be the most valuable player in the league."

DePaul has a similar underrated player in Tyrone Coles, the team's leading scorer and rebounder who was overlooked for All-America teams.

"Tyrone is the most underrated player in the country," Meyer said. "He is not only the most consistent player in the games, but he is the hardest worker in practice everyday."

Houston and Memphis State earned berths in the semifinals on Saturday. The Cougars, whom many thought should have drawn the top seed in the Midwest ahead of DePaul, defeated Louisiana Tech 74-66 while Memphis State beat Big Ten co-champion Purdue 66-46.

Saints locked out of their Superdome

United Press International
NEW ORLEANS — The owner of the New Orleans Saints said he wants to keep his NFL franchise in the Crescent City, but is concerned about stalled negotiations for a new contract with the Louisiana Superdome.

John Mecom said Monday he was "tired of being slapped in the face," and blamed the breakdown in negotiations on "a small amount of dollars and one helluva moral issue." He declined to elaborate.

"I feel the Saints and myself have done everything we can to try and let the people know that we want to stay here," he said. "But we expect something back."

The Saints are in the last year of a 10-year contract with the Superdome, and negotiations for a new agreement broke off last week.

Mecom said the odds are 50-50 of the Saints leaving the Superdome, which also became the site of the USFL Breakers this year to the USFL Breakers.

Indianapolis businessman Robert Welch has expressed interest in luring the Saints from New Orleans. Businessman Tom Benson of New Orleans also said he wants to leave the Saints and has a "substantial money offer ready for Mecom."

"I have a feeling that this is a ploy to try to actually get the city," Mecom said. "I'm from Houston as he prepares to leave for the NFL owners meeting in Hawaii Wednesday. "I can tell you right now team is not for sale."
