Earl will still play in Dome

HOUSTON — Earl Campbell, joining the other Houston Oilers for a three-day mini-camp Monday, said he has resolved his problems with the club and hoped to spend the next four years in the Oilers' backfield.

Last season, Campbell repeatedly grumbled about his lack of playing time for the Oilers and said he wanted to be traded. Earlier this year, he met with officials of the San Antonio Gunslingers in the rival United States Football League to discuss the possibilities of playing there.

But in a meeting last Friday, Campbell said he and Oilers General Manager Ladd Herzog resolved their differences and the former NFL rushing champion said he now plans to finish his career in Houston.

"I found a different Ladd Herzog on Friday. He was more willing to sit and listen to me and I was more willing to sit and listen to him," Campbell said Sunday after taking his physical for the mini-camp.

Pitcher out of prison

United Press International

SANTIAGO, Dominican Republic — Atlanta Braves pitcher Pascual Perez, still predicting he can win 20 games this season, was freed from prison Monday but still faces a meeting with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn before he resumes his career.

Perez, 26, was released from the San Luis prison after Prosecutor General Miguel Garcia Cordero decided not to appeal his conviction on a reduced charge of cocaine possession. The lanky righthander said he would return to Atlanta either Wednesday or Thursday.

"I'm confident I'm going to win 20 games this season despite being so many days late," said Perez, who was cheered by a crowd of fans on leaving the prosecutor's office.

"Being out in the street again makes me feel like a new man and confident I will never again be in trouble with the law."

While Perez said he was ready to pitch immediately, Braves General Manager John Mullen said in Atlanta the team must take Perez to New York to meet with Kuhn as soon as he arrives in Atlanta. Kuhn's office has been investigating the Perez case and he could face disciplinary action.

"The only thing we can say at this point, with the case being where it is now, (is that) we will now intensify our investigation," said a spokesman for the Commissioner's office. The spokesman said he could not confirm that Perez will be flying to New York.

"We don't know what view the commissioner will take ... but Pascual is free now, and sooner or later he'll be pitching for the Braves," said Mullen.

"I am happy and in perfect condition to begin playing soon as I arrive in Atlanta," Perez said. "I was about 12 pounds overweight when I entered prison, but now I'm almost my pitching weight."

Perez, who was 15-8 with the Braves last season, had been in jail for three months since his arrest Jan. 9 when he and a friend were stopped by narcotics agents on leaving a San Juan tavern. The agents said they found a half gram of cocaine in Perez's wallet.

Perez admitted possession of the white substance but said he had been given to him by an identified woman in Atlanta and delivered to someone else, and did not know what it was.

Perez was charged with possession of drug traffic, but a criminal court judge found him guilty of the possession charge.

NHL's Rangers eye Cup

United Press International

The New York Rangers have good reason to consider themselves the underdogs in their deciding playoff elimination game Tuesday night against the New York Islanders.

The Rangers have not won a Stanley Cup since 1940, while the Islanders have won four straight. The Islanders will also have the home ice advantage.

Perhaps most important, the Rangers will be without Barry Beck, their captain and star defenseman. Beck suffered a separated shoulder in the Rangers' 4-1 loss to the Islanders Sunday and will likely be out the rest of the season.

"Obviously, we will miss him," Rangers' coach Herb Brooks said of Beck. "But we can't say, 'We've lost him and now we're not going to show up.'"

Islander goaltender Billy Smith noted, "You don't like to see anybody get hurt. But if someone is going to get hurt, missing Beck hurts them the most."

In the other division semifinal game Tuesday, Chicago meets the North Stars at Minnesota. In the division finals beginning Thursday, Quebec and Montreal meet in Quebec, and Calgary confronts the Oilers in Edmonton.

The winner of the Rangers-Islanders game plays Washington, while either the Hawks or North Stars will face the St. Louis Blues.

The Islanders, seeking a fifth consecutive Stanley Cup, were down 1-0 entering the third period Sunday but bounced back on goals by John Tonelli, Brent Sutter, Clark Gillies and Bryan Trottier.

"You don't count anything out," said Islanders coach Alvin Galt. "You don't count us out. When it's necessary to do something to win, we come through. The team showed a lot of determination."

"We did what had to be done," said Bob Bourne. "We were still very confident at the end of the second period, still in control."

Despite the loss of Brooks is approaching Tuesday's game at the Nassau Coliseum in Uniondale, N.Y., with confidence.

"The pressure's on them, on us," he said. "I'm very happy with our play over the first four games."

The playoff series between the Minnesota North Stars and Chicago Black Hawks is known as a "best-of-one" battle at the Met Sports Center in Bloomington, Minn., Tuesday night. Winning for both clubs expects a struggle.

The two Norris Division winners were tied at two games apiece in the best-of-five series after Chicago rallied for a goal in the last eight minutes to edge Minnesota 4-3 Sunday.

"I expect another very dramatic game," North Stars coach Bill Mahoney said. "Both teams have played with tremendous intensity and I don't expect a difference now."

"We have the advantage playing in our own building. We see that as a positive situation for us."

No-hitter rewarded

United Press International

NEW YORK — Jack Morris of the Detroit Tigers, who hurled his first career no-hitter Saturday against the Chicago

White Sox at Comiskey Park Monday was named the unanimous choice as the American League player of the week.

Morris, who became the Detroit pitcher to throw a no-hitter since Jim Bunning's feat in 1958, also beat Minnesota 8-1 on April 3 and was named for the week with an 0.56 ERA.

Morris also equaled the record for the earliest no-hitter in the start of a season — Hall of Famer Ken Forsch's no-hitter for the St. Louis Cardinals on April 7, 1979.
